HOSPITAL MATRON HONORED

Newton Hospital Trustees Tender a Banquet To Miss Mary Riddle

Miss Mary M. Riddle, matron at the Newton Hospital, was the guest of honor at a banquet given last week on Thursday evening at the Brae Burn Club, West Newton, under the direction of the Board of Trustees of the Newton Hospital.

There were 75 guests present, including many prominent members of the Medical Profession, the Staff, Auxiliary, and members of the Board of Trustees of the Newton Hospital, and their wives.

Dinner was served in the dining-room, which was decorated for the occasion in a scheme of yellow, with yellow juncos arranged attractively in the table. During the dinner musical selections were rendered by a ladies orchestra.

Mr. W. Claxton Bray, president of the Board of Trustees, presided, and introduced the toastmaster, Ex-Mayor Wood, Clerk of the Board.

Dr. Francis J. Curtis, responded for Mayor Childs, who was unable to be present. The after-dinner speakers included Dr. William Otis Hunt, who gave a very interesting account of the "Early History of the Hospital," Dr. Francis E. Porter, who spoke on the "Former Matrons of the Hospital," and Dr. George E. May, who told of "The Present Needs of the Hospital."

Mr. W. Claxton Bray gave an interesting discourse on "The Three Decades of the Development at the Newton Hospital," referring to the past ten years of service by Miss Riddle, and ended with a very appropriate speech, presenting Miss Riddle with a bouquet of yellow spring blossoms in which was hidden a neat little sum of gold.

Miss Riddle has had a long and successful career in hospital work, and this dinner marked the completion of her ten years of service at the Newton Hospital. She held the position of leading instructor at the Boston City Hospital Training School until 1889. In 1890 she opened the Convalescent Home at the City Hospital where she remained for 5 years and she was also connected with the South Department which has charge of the contagious wards at the City Hospital, until 1904, at which time she entered upon her duties as matron of the Newton Hospital. Miss Riddle was the lecturer on the subject of "Hospital Administration" at Columbia University, is president of the American Nurses Association and stands in the same relation to the Association as the medical profession stands to our local organizations. She is also chairman of the Examining Board of Registration for Nurses, which office she has held since the law was enacted, and is editor of the Nursing Department of "The Modern Hospital," and director on the Board of "The American Journal of Nursing."

For many years Miss Riddle has been president of the Aulmae Association of the Boston City Hospital Training School, which office she still holds.

Among the guests were Dr. Fred B. Lund of Boston, Medical Examiner George L. West and Mrs. West, Mr. and Mrs. W. Claxton Bray, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Kelsey, Mrs. Charles L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ward, Dr. George E. May, Dr. and Mrs. Edward A. Andrews, and Dr. Baldwin of Newton Centre, Mr. and Mrs. Allison Burr and Mrs. E. C. Saltonstall of Chestnut Hill, Mr. and Mrs. E. Stuart Pratt, Dr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Jack, Dr. and Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, Dr. Fred M. Lowe and Miss Gwendolyn Lowe of West Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Archie C. Burnett of Waban, Alderman Arthur W. Blakemore and Mrs. Blakemore and Ex-Mayor A. R. Weed and Mrs. Weed, and Rev. Dr. MacLure and Mrs. MacLure of Newton, Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Porter and Mr. William T. Farley of Auburndale, Dr. William Otis Hunt, Dr. George H. Talbot, Dr. Clark, and Dr. Harold O. Hunt and Mrs. Hunt of Newtonville, and Miss Bertha W. Allen, and Miss Emily J. Sharkey, Miss Riddle's assistants at the Newton Hospital.

WINS CUP

Charles Wansker Given Trophy At Newton Y. M. C. A.

The annual gymnastic demonstration of the Newton Y. M. C. A. which began last week Thursday evening, was continued on Saturday evening when Mayor Childs and members of the city government were among the large audience present. The program included dumb bell drill by all the classes, Indian club drill, exhibition of fancy steps, the Home drill, recommended by Dr. Barker, and some clever work on the parallel bars by a picked squad of men.

The business men showed how they played volley ball, and the boys had an inning or two at indoor baseball. The sailors' hornpipe dance was splendidly given by Mr. Macpherson, the Physical Director, with three others and deserved the hearty applause which greeted it. There was also some very good balancing. The business men showed the small boys during the evening by their antics.

The principal event of the evening was the award of certificates and the loving cup for the best work of the year. Mayor Childs was introduced by President Emery and in a few well-chosen words on being a "Christian gentleman," presented certificates to the following lads: Lawrence Trowbridge, 377; Richard Cazmay, 391; Donald Simpson, 413; Harold Secord, 426; Warren Brimblecom, 445; Donald Moore, 524; Earl Clark, 614; Ernest Woodworth, 705, and Charles Wansker, 716. The loving cup for the best work of the year was also given to Charles Wansker. The figures represent the number of points made by each boy, the record being 700 points, the boys receiving more than 700, having broken the record in some instances.

MR. ROSS RESIGNS

Mr. H. Wilson Ross, the superintendent of the Newton Cemetery, has tendered his resignation and will leave within a short time to accept a position as manager of the Ross Bros. Co. of Worcester, one of the largest seed houses in New England. Mr. Ross has been superintendent of the Newton Cemetery for the past thirteen years, succeeding his uncle, the late Henry Ross, under whom he was assistant superintendent for a number of years. The Newton Cemetery, under his direction, has become one of the most beautiful cemeteries in the country and has a national reputation for beauty. Mr. Ross will be associated with his uncle in his new business in Worcester.

DEATH OF MR. ELLIS

Prominent Resident of Newton Centre Dies Suddenly

Mr. George H. Ellis, one of the prominent residents of Newton Centre for over a half century, died suddenly last week Thursday night at his home on Grant avenue. Mr. Ellis has not been in the best of health for some months, but has been able to be about town as usual. He made a visit down town that afternoon and was so exhausted on his return, that a physician was called to relieve him. He retired about eight o'clock and the family were alarmed about ten o'clock by his groaning. Before assistance could be given him, however, he passed away. Death is attributed to apoplexy.

Mr. Ellis was born in Boston seventy-five years ago, but came to Newton Centre as a young man. For some years he was associated with his father and brothers in the provision business as Warren Ellis and Sons, and on the failure of that business in the seventies, went to work as an inspector on the water works which the city was then constructing. In 1877, Mayor Alden Speare appointed him chief of the Fire Department and he served for three years. During this time he purchased the ice business then conducted by Mr. Luther Paul. Mr. Ellis soon built up a prosperous business which he continued until 1903 when he sold out to Mr. Miller.

Mr. Ellis was twice married, his first wife being Miss Ellen M. Ward and his present wife, by whom he is survived, was Miss L. Jennie Eastman. Mr. Ellis was also survived by a son, Mr. George H. Ellis, Jr., of Spokane, Wash., and a daughter, Miss Helen Ellis of Newton Centre, children of his first wife.

He was a member of the First Church of Newton Centre for many years and was always active in public affairs, holding at various times, several minor city offices.

Funeral services were held from his late home on Sunday afternoon, the services, which were private, being conducted by Rev. Edward M. Noyes, D.D., of the First Church and the burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

CITY HALL

There are persistent, but unverified rumors that at least two heads of important departments have been requested to resign, and it is said that more are coming.

The committee on Public Works was in session until 1:30 A. M. last Wednesday morning.

It is expected that the 1914 budget will be reported at the meeting of the aldermen next Monday.

Hearings will be held next week Thursday by the License committee to all petitioners for permits to transport intoxicating liquors, and on Friday night to remonstrants to that action.

BURIAL OF MR. KEITH

Funeral services for the late Benjamin F. Keith, the well-known theatrical manager, were held Monday afternoon in the chapel at the Newton Cemetery, and there was a large attendance of friends and relatives. The services were in charge of Rev. Edward A. Horton, chaplain of the Massachusetts senate, a personal friend of Mr. Keith, and there was singing by the "Meistersingers."

There was a most beautiful display of flowers, many pieces coming from the many Keith theatres all over the country.

The body was placed in the receiving tomb until arrangements are made for the lot which Mr. Keith had intended to purchase before his death.

GAS HEARING

Company Presents Reasons Against Cheaper Gas

At the continued hearing last Friday morning before the Gas and Electric Light Commissioners on the petition for a reduction in the price of gas in this city, the Newton and Watertown Gas Light Company, by Mr. James L. Richards, president, and Mr. A. A. Ballantyne, its counsel, presented reasons why the petition should not be granted.

Mr. Richards told the commissioners that the reason was that the Boston Consolidated Company could not purchase enough gas from the New England Gas and Coke Company and has been obliged to open a plant at Commercial Point, Boston, to manufacture gas. The cost of making gas at the Commercial Point plant was far above the price which the company pays for the gas it buys from the New England Gas and Coke Company and accordingly the Boston Consolidated has to charge a higher price to the Newton and Watertown Company.

Mr. Grosvenor Calkins, for the petitioners, said that evidence had been introduced by the company to the effect that there were many companies in Massachusetts which were charging from ninety cents to one dollar and sixty cents for their gas. These companies, Mr. Calkins said are all small companies and sell less gas than the Newton and Watertown Company. The Newton and Watertown Company is one of the largest companies in the State and dispose of more than 400 million cubic feet of gas annually. The Newton and Watertown Company should be compared with some of the larger companies of the State like the Lynn and Worcester companies.

Mr. Calkins said that while the number of consumers per mile in Newton was lower than it was in other cities with which the situation might be compared, the amount of gas used by each consumer was larger than elsewhere, on the average. The Newton and Watertown Gas Light Company buys its gas for fifty cents a thousand cubic feet and yet the Boston Consolidated pays only twenty-three cents a thousand.

President Richards argued that the company had been obliged to charge the Newton and Watertown Company fifty cents a thousand cubic feet for its gas because of the opening of the Commercial Point plant which was made necessary in order to supply enough gas. The cost of oil has gone up and this makes the cost of producing gas more expensive. The Boston Consolidated Company does not feel that it can sell gas any cheaper to the Newton and Watertown Company and that company in turn does not feel that it can sell any cheaper to the consumer.

DANCING PARTY

Miss Marguerite Hunt closed her dancing school for the season on Tuesday afternoon at the North Gate Club House, West Newton, by holding a German for the beginners' class, while the advanced scholars received their usual instruction.

The little ones presented a very pretty sight with their decorations of rainbow hues, and the very noticeable progress made in dancing by them speaks much for their efficient and graceful instructor, who was the recipient of two lovely bouquets of violets from the scholars.

Many parents and friends of the scholars were present, among whom were Mrs. Charles Whittemore, Mrs. George A. Litchfield, Mrs. D. F. Barker, Mrs. Henry T. Grevatt, Mrs. F. W. Putnam, Mrs. James Quartz, Mrs. W. D. Kilburn, Mrs. Harley Gillies and Mrs. A. M. Teulon.

GIRLS GYMNASIIC MEET

Junior Class Wins First Honors In High School Gymnasium

One of the prettiest sights of the spring season is the annual gymnastic exhibition of the Girls of the Newton High Schools. This interesting event was held last Friday afternoon in the High School gymnasium and attracted a large audience of parents and friends.

Three hundred young girls dressed alike in white blouses, blue bloomers, dark stockings and shoes and with bright flowing ties of green, red, yellow and blue to indicate the various classes, aroused a thrill of interest as they marched into the hall in a long column of twos and arranged themselves around three sides of the building.

The first number on the program was an exhibition of floor work by the different classes, the movements being given to music and under the direction of Miss Shepardson, the physical director. 35 seniors, 64 juniors, 92 sophomores and 106 freshmen took part and the different classes were enthusiastically applauded by their patrons. Competitions in hand travelling, rope climbing, work on the ladders, face and box vaulting, saddle and parallel bar vaulting, then followed, the popular members of the classes being encouraged to their best work by the applause of their classmates. Perhaps the most interest was taken in the arch goal ball and relay races when the enthusiasm reached its highest point in the afternoon. At arch goal ball, the seniors defeated the juniors, and were in turn beaten by the freshmen in the finals, after the latter had beaten the sophomores. The preliminaries of the relay races were won by the seniors from the juniors, and the freshmen from the sophomores, the seniors winning the finals. The program closed with an exhibition of graceful dancing by girls from the freshmen, sophomore, and senior and junior classes.

The announcement of the names of the winners by Mr. E. C. Adams, the headmaster was almost drowned by the applause of the different classes as the names were spoken, and when at the close Mr. Adams stated that the juniors had won the meet, the yell that went up almost raised the roof.

The meet was won by the juniors with a total of 36 points, sophomores second, with 32 points, seniors third, with 24, and freshmen last, with 13.

The judges were Miss Kate Wallace, Radcliffe; Miss Theora Bush, Dana Hall School; Miss Margaret Bouve, Boston School of Physical Education, and Miss Adele Greenidge of New York. The summary:

"DAVID GARRICK"

Under the auspices of the Woman's Exchange of Newton, two performances of Robertson's Comedy "David Garrick" will be given at Players' Hall on Saturday and Tuesday evenings, April 25th and 28th.

The performances will be staged under the direction of Mr. Hubert Pierce, who coached the recent production of the "Mikado," at Players' Hall.

"Garrick" will be preceded on each occasion by Edward Payne's beautiful one-act comedy, "The Forgotten Melody." Mr. Pierce will play the title role in "Garrick" and the part of the old musician in "The Forgotten Melody."

"Garrick" one of the gems of the old comedies has been acted all too little of late years and many will be glad of the opportunity to enjoy the charm of its love-story, with its clever situations.

The company has been carefully selected from among the most talented amateurs of Newton and vicinity. It will also include two or three artists who have been associated with Mr. Pierce on the professional stage.

Everything promises an unusually brilliant and effective production. The event has already created much social interest.

The members of the Woman's Exchange have for some time been seeking a means of raising funds for the support of its work. They are happy in having decided on such an entertainment which will certainly attract large and appreciative audiences.

The President, Mrs. W. F. Lucas and Vice Presidents, Mrs. J. T. Lodge, Mrs. E. T. Fearing, and Mrs. E. P. Tuttle, together with the members of the board, have already secured as patronesses the names of a large number of ladies, prominent in social circles throughout the Newtons, Watertown and Brookline.

EDITORIAL

There are so many factors entering into the issue of refusing to grant the usual permits to transport intoxicating liquors, which has been recently raised by some of the good people of this city, that it is perhaps difficult to make a clear cut decision without careful study and investigation. The greatest benefit to all the citizens of Newton should be the goal desired and it is a little disappointing to have the advocates of refusing such permits, state that the subsequent conditions are not matters for consideration at this time, but will be met when the situation develops. It seems to me that the result which will follow the refusal to grant these permits, is of the greatest moment to this city. It is admitted in the beginning by all conversant with the law, that there is no control at the present time over the delivery of liquor in Newton, by the teams of Boston stores, where the purchase has been made. Already one Brighton liquor dealer is making such deliveries in this city. What will be the result, if our regular expressmen are refused permits to deliver liquor bought by residents of Newton? It is idle to suppose for one moment that persons in this city, who have been in the habit of receiving liquor, are going to stop purchasing because their regular expressman cannot make such delivery. The liquor will be purchased just the same and delivered made by teams which Boston liquor dealers will put in service for that purpose. It will therefore follow that there will be anywhere from twenty to fifty individual teams or automobiles passing thru this city making deliveries of liquors, over which no check can be maintained by the police department. Under present conditions every person granted these permits, must keep a record of each delivery open to inspection by the police, and in consequence, the liquor officer of the force is able to keep track to a large extent of where liquor is being used, and is thereby enabled to trace down possible "kitchen barrooms."

In addition we have a large foreign population in Newton, who consume light wines and beer as we Americans, people use tea and coffee. They have not been here long enough to know the pernicious effects of alcohol in even this diluted form, and would resent any curtailment of what they consider their personal rights in the matter. The greater part of the liquor brought into Newton goes to people of this class. It is not used to excess and rarely leads to drunkenness. If permits are refused, how will these people obtain their regular supply? Is it not reasonable to suppose that it will be delivered to them as before, and with the added danger that the sale itself will actually take place, secretly, of course, in this city.

I believe it is highly desirable to cut down the number of liquor transportation permits which are issued at present, but I also believe that a refusal to grant them all, will produce alcoholic conditions in Newton which will be a disgrace, and will lead to a YES vote next fall.

Attention is again called to the public hearing to be given next Wednesday morning by the Public Service Commission on the proposed increase in passenger fares on the B. & A. R. R. Additional interest is also taken in the railroad situation by the news that the Railroad company has filed an entirely new schedule of freight rates, to take effect May 1st.

The news of the resignation of Mr. H. Wilson Ross as superintendent of the Newton cemetery will be a matter of deep regret to the proprietors of that institution and to all of our residents who have learned to love the quiet beauty of this most attractive city of the dead. Mr. Ross has been a most efficient official and has developed and improved the cemetery until it stands very near the head of the noted cemeteries of the country. It is a matter of interest that Mr. Ross was born and has always lived in the superintendent's house at the cemetery and has therefore more than an official interest in its growth and development. The best wishes of the community will follow Mr. Ross in his new enterprise.

The rumors that the heads of important city departments are to be asked to resign should be promptly settled one way or the other by Mayor Childs. No department head can be expected to give his whole thought and attention to planning the work for the coming season, while his continuing in office is a matter of uncertainty. The best interests of the city demand a confirmation or a denial of these rumors.

The case of police officer Neagle promises to become quite an issue in municipal affairs.

DR. STRONG DEAD

Rev. Dr. Elnathan Ellsworth Strong, for 25 years editor of the Missionary Herald, died yesterday at his home in Auburndale.

He was born at Hardwick, Vt., May 2, 1832, the son of Elnathan and Jane C. Strong. After graduation from Dartmouth in 1852 he received the degree of A. M. three years later, about the time he was graduated from Andover Theological Seminary. In 1883 Dartmouth bestowed on him the degree of D. D.

In 1859 he was ordained in the Congregational ministry and was pastor of a parish in South Natick until 1865. Moving to Waltham he remained a pastor there till 1878, when he became editorial secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions.

In 1907 Dr. Strong retired from active editorial work, enjoying the title of editorial secretary emeritus, much of the arduous labor being performed by his son, Rev. Dr. William Ellsworth Strong.

In 1903 the secretary was chairman of a deputation to visit the three missions of the board in Africa. His report on this trip is a classic in missionary annals.

On Dec. 16, 1856, he married Miss Elizabeth Gilman Mitchell of Boston. He is survived by a widow, two sons, Rev. Dr. W. E. Strong and Arthur M. Strong, and a daughter, Miss Annie C. Strong.

Habit Hard to Break.
Men too often cease to be lovers when they become husbands. And for a woman who has once had a lover, as for a woman who has once had a maid, it is almost impossible to do without.

Huge Map is Being Made.
The international map of the world, on a scale of 1 to 1,000,000, will, when completed, eight or ten years hence, cover a total area of about 150 by 75 feet, or the surface of a globe 40 feet in diameter.

Bonehead Plays.
The exchange that suggests adding another column to tabulated baseball scores for the purpose of recording bonehead plays is justifiable, but impractical. The papers are using all the space they can afford, already.

An Electric Restaurant.
An electric restaurant is in successful operation in London. The cooking is faultless and the prices are lower than those of the neighboring establishments of the same class.

Condiments.
"Jonesy seems to think he's the salt of the earth." "Well, his wife's the pepper."

Ominous Intimation.
"Sir, I want to marry your daughter." "Sir, I want that in black and white before you change your mind."

CORT THEATRE—Delightful melodies that are being applauded when played in the restaurants, and comedy scenes that business men are talking about during their lunch hour have made Oliver Morosco's latest comedy with music, "Pretty Mrs. Smith," now at the Cort Theatre, the talk of the town.

Splendid audiences have been greeting fascinating Kitty Gordon and her merry associates since they commenced their engagement two weeks ago and when they are not actually humming the various tuneful numbers, they are applauding and holding their sides with laughter at the continual flow of good fun and bright comedy that fills each act.

There is enough comedy in "Pretty Mrs. Smith" to supply two ordinary musical shows. Every speech is witty and every situation is made doubly attractive by tuneful melodies that one cannot resist.

The company is a brilliant one and made up of artists of reputation. Besides Kitty Gordon who has never appeared to better advantage than in her present starring vehicle, there are Charlotte Greenwood and Sydney Grant who elicit much laughter from their many mirth-provoking situations; Harrison Hunter, Roy Atwell, Edward Martindale, Lillian Tucker, James Gleason and the California Double Quartet.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE—Jesse L. Lasky's newest and most gorgeous musical spectacle, "The Beauties," presented by Stewart Baird, Lora Lieb, and a company of sixteen beautiful girls of all nations, will head the bill at B. F. Keith's Theatre next week. The feature of the act is the congress of girls of all nations, representative of the various types of beauty they stand for. A rich and tuneful musical score by Robert Hood Bowers runs through the piece. Winona Winters, the charming musical comedy favorite, will make her first vaudeville appearance in Boston in several years in a repertoire of new and original song successes. Louise Galloway, the well-known legitimate actress, will appear with her own company of players in the gripping comedy playlet with a punch entitled "Little Mother." Other exceptionally strong features will be James T. Duffy and Mercedes Lorenz in their miniature musical comedy, "Springtime;" Three Hickey Brothers, acrobatic funsters; Lorraine and Dudley in a unique protean novelty comedy; Mack and Ellis, two newcomers; and several other strong features.

BOSTON THEATRE—That stirring American play "In Old Kentucky" is repeating its success of twenty years ago at the Boston Theatre. Produced on Monday night with a splendid cast, 100 or more supernumeraries, a dozen or so horses, a swarm of genuine Southern pickaninnies who sing and dance and frolic to their hearts content and to the undisputed delight of the audience, and with an elaborate and beautiful production as has ever been seen on the great stage of the Boston Theatre, it, once again established itself in the favor of Boston playgoers. The management has spared no expense in preparing it for this special engagement of four weeks at the Boston Theatre. The picturesque production cost upwards of $20,000, and the cast is undoubtedly the best the play has ever had in its long and successful career of twenty years. The fact that this is appreciated is evident from the enormous audiences that have filled the great Boston Theatre since the opening night. It is a sign, too, of a healthy public sentiment for "In Old Kentucky," like "The Old Homestead" is as clean and wholesome a play as was ever written.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE—With "Rip Van Winkle" as the play, and John Craig in the title role, there will be a double interest in next week's production at the Castle Square. The play is a famous one. It was acted all over the country by Joseph Jefferson during a period of nearly forty years, and it may fairly be said to be one of the most popular and successful of all American comedies. Its plot is taken from Washington Irving's well-known legendary story, and its combination of reality and the supernatural is remarkable. It will be given for only one week at the Castle Square. Week after next the Castle Square play will be Shakespeare's comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," with Mr. Craig and Miss Young in the cast. It will be followed during the week of April 20th by the latest farce comedy success, "Officer 666."

EFFICIENCY TALK

Mr. Whitehead Gives An Address On "Making Good"

The second of the efficiency talks by Mr. H. W. Whitehead was given at the Newton Y. M. C. A. last Monday. The subject was "Making Good in Business." Mr. Whitehead said in part:—

"I once heard a definition of success as 'making other people think as we think.' As a salesman operating under this definition, I have something to tell you. It is a thought, a conviction, a real belief that success in business is within reach of every person who is possessed of the average mental and physical ability. It seems to be the common belief that a man, to be successful in business, has to be possessed of certain peculiar God-given gifts, and unless they are born with one, it is impossible to acquire them. It is, therefore, to combat this common belief that I have chosen as my topic this evening that of 'Making Good in Business.' I will endeavor to show you that the successful business man has no abilities which each of you, individually, do not possess and that the measure of your success is only determined by your ambition to do something sensible striving to attain that ambition.

"Success is a state of continually 'making good.' You will notice I use the present tense, for 'making good' is something which we must do today and tomorrow. If we cease to 'make good' we have ceased to be successful. 'Making good,' therefore, is a continual striving for some attainment. Let me express it in another way. Your ambition may be at present to become, let us say, a traveling salesman. When you secure that position as a traveling salesman, your ambition may then be to sell $50,000 worth of merchandise in a year. You find when you have attained your ambition of selling $50,000 worth of merchandise in a year, your ambition has again advanced, perhaps to that of making yourself the leading salesman of your firm and so your ambition must keep advancing so that you always have something to strive for. Cease to advance your ambition and you at once cease to 'make good,' for unless a man advances he must retreat. There is no state of standing still. A man who slips into a 'come-day-go-day-God-sent' 'pay-day' method of working slips into a rut and the only difference between a rut and a grave is the depth.

"The business methods which 'made good' 50 years ago would not succeed today. Business methods 50 years ago were haphazard, today they are scientific. Competition is the spur which drove the business world into adopting scientific methods.

"The original local merchant has not only his own local competition to meet, but also the competition of encroaching firms, so that competition is a very real matter of fact. This competition caused keener buying which caused manufacturers to study production more closely. New and labor-saving methods and machinery naturally followed and the manufacturers began to specialize. This specialization of machinery and methods has created an enormous demand for specialized men to conduct modern business.

"I cannot lay too much stress upon the need of trained men, for the demand for trained men is far beyond the supply, while the need for the untrained man is becoming less and less. "A big business demands a big man to manage it. If the job is bigger than the man, it must shrink to the man's size or the man must grow big enough for the job, failing this the man must go. A big man will make a small business grow to his size.

"Six factors lead to success in business, every one of which is in the possession of the normal person. The first is Love of Work, first because, in my opinion, it must be important. It means taking a real interest in your work and pride and pleasure in attaining results.

"The next factor for success in business is Courage. Not the courage which marches out to the battle when the band is playing and everyone is cheering, but the courage which enables one to keep on fighting when things are breaking badly and you have no right to the opposition of opponents, but what is still worse, apathy, and perhaps disloyalty, of your fellow fighters.

"The third factor is Obedience, for no individual can succeed unless the business for which he works succeeds. A rowing crew can only make speed by all pulling together to the same place and to the same object.

"The fourth factor is Continuity. Work as hard today as yesterday, and tomorrow as today, if you run a machine by fits and starts you quickly wear out its bearings if you run a business machine, or an individual by fits and starts, you very quickly impair its efficiency. It is steady application, regular, even advancement that causes the surest success.

"The fifth factor is Faith. Enthusiastic faith, a real belief in yourself, in your goods, and in the house for which you work.

"And finally Knowledge. Knowledge is essential and I may say a platform upon which all business success must be built. You must have a knowledge of yourself, a knowledge of other people or human nature, and a knowledge of your business.

Mr. Whitehead told several interesting stories which caused much amusement, but which drove home their moral to all present very emphatically.

The talk for next Monday is on "The Man in the Mirror," and the audience is promised a unique method of self-analysis which is claimed to show how to "see ourselves as others see us."

MOUNT IDA SCHOOL

Last week the Harvard Musical Clubs, consisting of the Glee Club, Mandolin and Banjo Clubs, gave a concert at the school which was very much enjoyed by the young ladies. After the concert the students entertained the young men socially. This was followed by dancing. The evening was a decided success in every way.

Rev. Dr. Whitmore, pastor of the Congregational Church in Waterville, Maine, addressed the school at the regular chapel exercises last week. His subject was "Happiness," and the teachers and girls enjoyed his talk very much indeed.

Last Friday night the school entertained at its regular Easter dance. It was held in the gymnasium, which was very prettily decorated. Young men from the leading universities and colleges in New England were present as guests of the young ladies.

Mr. Alvin P. Pease of Malden addressed the school a few days ago at the chapel exercises. He spoke about the place of woman's work in modern Christianity both for the church and for civilization. Mr. Pease always has a message to bear and gives it in an interesting way.

Every year the school gives a gymnasium exhibition showing the work that has been covered during the year. This was held Tuesday evening, March 24. Many invited guests were present. The girls did excellently and went through some very pretty exercises and drills. An Italian dance given by sixteen girls was especially enjoyed by all.

The school is having the Easter vacation now. The girls left last Friday afternoon. Many of the students will spend the two weeks at home, but those who live too far away to go home are spending it with friends and roommates. School will re-open April 13th.

CARBON

The engine that's dirty with CARBON is the unsatisfactory engine—it doesn't develop the right amount of power, it "knocks" and, if the carbon isn't removed, it will score the cylinder walls, a really very serious matter.

If your car has run a thousand or more miles without having the carbon removed, valves ground in, piston rings overhauled, etc., bring it to us NOW and have the work done promptly, perfectly and at a reasonable cost. Careful workmanship and dependable service—ALWAYS HERE.

RESIDENCE OF MR. J. L. RICHARD S. KIRSTALL ROAD

FADING FADS

That which professional educators call enrichment of the curriculum and parents of school children refer to scoffingly as fads seems to be losing its popularity. Boston has not yet fully recovered from the amazement of finding its own highly cultivated school board shining up to the three R's. Parents who were coming to think that their plain, common sense ideas stamped them as wholly ignorant of enlightened views of education may get renewed courage from the thought expressed the other day by President Lowell of Harvard. He told the High School Masters' Club that inefficiency in education was due to the attempt to have students cover too wide a range of subjects and their neglect to acquire the habit of exact thought and expression. He was voicing the thought of many parents who have watched the results of educational experiments on their own children when he said:

"Rather than becoming masters of a few subjects, students undertake too wide a range of subjects. Modern so-called enrichment of school courses too frequently has resulted in impoverishing the students' real mental mastery."

This is vindication for the Little Red School House system of education which, by the way, needed no vindication.

The decorations in the dining-room were very beautiful and elaborate. The decorative scheme was violet and yellow. There was a large centre-piece of yellow tulips, and violets were strewn with careless effect on the table. Covers were laid for twenty, and each of the ladies was presented with a bunch of violets.

PUPILS RECITAL

The Pianoforte and Theory Students' Association, pupils of Miss Helen Douglas, gave a recital on Saturday evening at their studio on Bowers street, Newtonville. The program was in two parts and included 20 numbers by the celebrated composers.

The pupils were assisted by Miss Marie Clifford Bartlett, who was so pleasing to the audience that she was repeatedly encored.

Altho' the weather was not all that could be desired the parents and friends of the pupils turned out in large numbers and both rooms at the studio were entirely filled with a very appreciative audience. The pupils all performed so creditably, that it was almost impossible to particularize, altho' Miss Katherine Baker's rendition from memory, of Grieg's "Watchman's Song", and transposing it into another key, was worthy of note, and very pleasing to the audience.

The performance of Richard Leonard, Miss Hazel Cunningham, Mr. Carleton Smith, Miss Eleanor Frail, and Miss Veronica Barry, elicited much merited applause.

Others taking part in the program included, Elsa Haase, Ruth Parlin, and Mary Elizabeth Edmonds in a trio; Kathleen Best, Myron Jonsberg, Eleanor Leighton, Rose Heidelein, Evelyn Burnham, Mary Barry, Gertrude Barry, Wallace Richmond, Grace Geist, Ruth Jones, Katherine Auryansen, Frances Reinbach, Marjorie Palmer, Ethel Frail, and Carleton Smith.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Miss Grace M. Burt, Editor.

The Club Editor is in receipt of the Woman's Edition of the Manchester N. H. Union, which was published on March 30, by the New Hampshire Federation of Women's Clubs. It consists of six sections numbering from 12 to 16 pages each. According to an editorial signed by Miss Jennie M. DeMeritt, president of the Federation, this edition represents the effort of nearly seven thousand New Hampshire women, who comprise 97 federated clubs in the state, representing sixty cities and towns. The purpose is two-fold: First, to bind the clubs more closely to each other and to the Federation through creating a more widespread interest among the clubs in practical lines of work in the direction of education, civic improvement, legislation and social reform, as well as in the departments of art, music and literature, and thence to present a fuller knowledge of this work to the public; second, to complete New Hampshire's apportionment to the General Federation Endowment fund, and to materially enlarge the recently established State Federation Prosperity Fund.

That the work has been done thoroughly one has but to glance over the pages. Every phase of Federation work is carefully written up, all kinds of covered and state institutions have received due attention. The amount of labor involved in such a production can only be appreciated by those who have had practical experience in these things and the New Hampshire women are to be congratulated upon the result of their undertaking. It may be of local interest to know that the article upon New Hampshire's Daughters in Boston, is written by Miss Jessie M. Fisher of this city.

Attention is called to the article upon the Newlands Bill now before Congress. The writer Mrs. F. H. Tucker, as all club women know, is an expert on the subject of conservation. This phase, water ways and water supply, is prominently before the country since the terrible floods of the Central West a year ago—a question which must be taken care of in the proper way. The tendency of remedial work at the present time is for going back of effects to causes. Anything which can be done to prevent such terrible calamities as have been seen in this country should be done speedily. Note suggestions as to how the club women may assist.

THE NEWLANDS BILL

Mrs. Fred H. Tucker States What It Is and What Women Can Do About It

Discussed by Mrs. Fred H. Tucker of Newton, Ex-Chairman Conservation Department, Massachusetts Federation Women's Clubs

Purpose of Bill

To create a Waterways Commission and a Board of River Regulation to promote interstate commerce by the development and improvement of the rivers and waterways and water resources of the United States and the coordination of and co-operation between rail and water routes, and by providing a fund for the regulation and control of the flow of rivers and for the maintenance of all seasons of a navigable stage of water in waterways and for the connection of rivers and waterways with the Great Lakes and with each other, and as a means to that end to provide for flood prevention and protection and for water storage and for the beneficial use of flood waters for irrigation and water power and for the conservation and use of water in agriculture and for the protection of watersheds from denudation and erosion and from forest fires and for the co-operation in such work of Government services and bureaus with each other and with States, municipalities, and other local agencies.

The Present Condition

The United States has the finest rivers and river systems in the world. "What the nations of Europe have striven to construct, a continental system of internal waterways, America has ready to hand and so situated that on or near the banks must be produced and consumed the greater part of all that the continent produces or buys from other peoples." Yet, with few exceptions and compared with what might be, these waterways are undeveloped and almost useless. Few streams, large or small, are fit for water supply, domestic, municipal, or manufacturing; notwithstanding vast irrigation projects already established, immense areas of arid land are still awaiting the water which might be furnished; only a small portion of the potential waterpower of the country is developed; while even upon our finest rivers there is nothing which in any large sense could be called navigation. Still worse, our rivers are not only comparatively useless but they are wild destroying forces which devastate the country more than an invading army. The floods of 1912 and 1913 cost hundreds of millions of dollars in property—buildings, bridges, industrial plants, railroads, etc.—and made many thousands of people homeless besides taking away the means of livelihood, thus adding more than can be estimated to unemployment, vagrancy, disease, and crime.

The "Pork Barrel" System

Millions are spent annually for repairs and "river improvement." But how is this money secured and how applied? It is done by the "pork barrel" system. By the "pork barrel" is meant a general appropriation by Congress from which congressmen try to secure as large a portion as possible for their respective localities. This necessarily necessitates constant temptation to congressmen to gain favor with their constituents through needless or extravagant expenditures. It is true that in the case of waterways the necessity of doing something is so obvious and the expert preliminary surveys and examinations for given improvements are required to be so thorough that we need not question the sincerity of congressmen in pursuing their respective projects. The trouble is with the system.

The Newlands Plan

The plan proposed by the Newlands Bill differs from the present method both in the thing to be done and the manner of doing it. Instead of detached and unrelated local improvements this proposal aims at a comprehensive and unified treatment of all our streams, considering every part in relation to other parts and to the whole. This treatment is to be planned and administered by a representative board of experts subject to the direction and control of a waterways commission and having a fixed annual appropriation of $60,000,000 for ten years to carry on the work. This Board of River Regulation has power to co-operate with the Government services and the states, municipalities, corporations, and any local agencies whatsoever in carrying out the purposes of this act.

The Mississippi River as an Illustration of the Two Systems

The Mississippi River well illustrates the relative merits of the two systems. By far the largest river appropriations go to the lower Mississippi. Levees are built and banks reinforced to resist floods and the channel is dredged to take out silt and gravel washed from the banks all the way along. But the floods keep coming, the bed fills up in spite of dredging, and levees are built higher and higher in a vain effort to hold the waters within a fixed channel. All this for flood protection and almost nothing for flood prevention. The Newlands plan, on the other hand, aims both to modify and control floods and also to store up the surplus waters for use during low stages. But to accomplish this the whole river with all its tributaries must be treated as a unit from source to mouth. How feeble are levees and revetments on the lower Mississippi when 70 feet of torrent from the Ohio and 50 from the Missouri dash into the already bristling channel to be added to all along the way by other storm swollen tributaries! The prevention of floods must begin at headwaters, for without source control all else is vain.

Flood Prevention

The main treatment for flood prevention is forestation combined with damming and reservoiring. Forestation must begin at headwaters, for forests hold the soil upon the mountains where rivers rise, and they also make of this soil a natural reservoir which prevents flooding and feeds the rivers during drought. The damming of streams produces artificial reservoirs and the aim is to make these dams sufficiently strong and high and numerous to hold back and store up the storm waters, in this way both preventing floods and utilizing the surplus water.

Ultimate Aim and Requirements

Flood prevention, however, although absolutely essential, is not the whole story. The ultimate aim is to develop all our streams to the utmost for every beneficial use. Fortunately the same means go a long way towards securing both ends. Forestation purifies the water supply, dams and reservoirs are necessary to irrigation, and power and navigation require a uniform and reliable stage of water. But forestation must be supplemented by proper agricultural and horticultural methods in order to conserve the water supply and stream flow, dams require canals and locks for navigation, channels must be deepened and straightened and banks reinforced, while levees will be needed so long as floods continue and dredging must go on until erosion has ceased. Rivers also need connecting canals and both rivers and canals must be standardized in depth and width so that the manufactures of New England, for instance, and the wheat from Dakota farms may be exchanged wholly by boat without unloading on the way.

The Waterways Commission and the Board of River Regulation

The personnel of the Board of River Regulation proposed by the Newlands Bill is adapted to these varied demands, while the make-up of the Waterways Commission to which the Board is responsible keeps this Board always in control of the existing administration at Washington.

The Waterways Commission is to consist of the President of the United States as Chairman with the power of veto, the Secretaries of War, of the Interior, and of Agriculture, and the Chairman of the Board of River Regulation, together with the Chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission and of the Panama Canal Commission, as ex officio members.

The Board of River Regulation is to consist of the Chief of Engineers of the United States Army, the Chairman of the Mississippi River Commission, the Director of the U. S. Geological Survey, the Director of the Reclamation Service, the Forester of the Department of Agriculture, the Chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry, of the Department of Agriculture, the Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, one civil engineer, one sanitary engineer, one hydro-electric engineer, one expert on transportation and a Chairman of the Board. The last five members shall be appointed by the President, and shall constitute an executive committee which shall have general executive direction and supervision of the operations of the Board. The annual appropriation called for is slight compared with the losses and expenditures under the present system and seems inadequate without the provision for co-operation and co-ordination with all other agencies.

Summary

To sum up—The Newlands Bill provides for dealing with floods by treatment of causes rather than effects; for a comprehensive and unified treatment of waterways throughout the country for all beneficial uses; for a permanent Board to devise and formulate plans for such waterway regulation and development and to co-ordinate all Government services and agencies working with the same end; for a Waterways Commission through which the Board shall be automatically under the control of the existing Administration; and for a fixed annual appropriation for these objects instead of the uncertain and haphazard appropriations of the present system.

What Women Can Do

The Newlands Bill is before Congress this season. Women can work for its passage by studying the subject and informing others. Write to your senators and representatives. Write to your congressman and get others to do the same. Every year that we go on under the present system piles up the losses and increases the work to be done under the better system which we must finally adopt.

NEWTON LADIES HOME CIRCLE

A most charming "at home" was given on March 27th when Mrs. George M. Fiske of Auburndale, opened her hospitable house to the presidents and secretaries of the Newton clubs, the active members of the Home Circle, past presidents and friends. The house was made attractive with palms and ferns and hundreds of cut flowers. A color scheme being used in the different rooms. The President-elect, Mrs. William H. Brown, received with the hostess. From three to five-thirty the company were delightfully entertained by choice selections on the harp by Miss Rachael W. Kilmer of Hyde Park, an artist of rare ability. The ushers were Mrs. Joshua Seaver, Mrs. Herbert Smith and Mrs. Christopher Flye.

The dining rooms were presided over by Mrs. E. Harold Ashenden, Mrs. H. Alfred Hanson, Mrs. C. E. Wood, and Mrs. H. L. Stiles.

Helping to serve were Mrs. Geo. E. Keyes, Mrs. A. R. Bacon, Mrs. J. P. B. Fiske, and Miss Marie Stiles. The informality and good cheer which prevailed made the afternoon one of delight to all.

NEWTON WOMEN'S CLUB

A travel talk by Mrs. Everett S. Jones will be given at the Newton Club, Newtonville, this afternoon at the meeting of the Newton Woman's Club. The following meeting on April 16th will take the form of a card party, Bridge, auction and whist, in the Assembly room of the Allen School, West Newton, Mrs. E. S. Jones, hostess. It is hoped everyone will help make this a success.

SETS HOUSE ON FIRE

Miss Mary Keeley, a domestic in the employ of Patrolman William E. Fuller at his home, 107 Central avenue, Newtonville, for the past three weeks, was arrested yesterday morning after an alleged attempt to set fire to the house. On the arrival of the State police, the young woman was arrested charged with arson.

The fact that the woman was discharged from her position a few hours before the fire was discovered, over which she was somewhat incensed, is the cause given for her act. On account of the prompt discovery of the fire by Mr. Fuller's brother, Arthur S. Fuller, very little damage was done.

The work of the woman had not been satisfactory, and Mr. Fuller had discharged her early in the morning. His brother, who was alone in the house, smelled smoke, and on investigation found the cellar in flames.

On the arrival of the firemen, who were summoned on a still alarm, the odor of kerosene oil was very strong, and on their investigation it was found that throughout the cellar, two wooden barrels were saturated with oil, and a stream followed by these to the cellar stairs.

The fire had been set in the barrels and was burning briskly when discovered, although very little of the woodwork had ignited. The State police were called in by Chief W. B. Handlett, and on their arrival the woman was arrested.

WOMEN'S CLUB

peare's three styles of writing, romance, tragedy and comedy. Miss Mary Newhall, one of the club members, pleased the audience with her songs, "O, Mistress Mine" from Twelfth Night, by Barrett, and "The Open Secret," by Woodman. Miss Elsie Sternberger's piano solos were much enjoyed. The delightful afternoon ended with a tea and social hour.

On March 30 the Newton Highlands Monday Club met at the home of Mrs. C. H. Keeler. Mrs. M. M. Griswold and Miss Flora F. Fewkes were in charge of the program. The subject for the afternoon was "The American Stage." Mrs. Griswold read for Miss Fewkes, a paper upon "Great American Actors," which included a sketch of the lives of the stars of American birth and such others as have been closely associated in their work with this country. Mrs. D. W. Eagles gave a description of Meriwold, the home of many dramatists. Mrs. Griswold spoke of the work of David Belasco and selections from William Winter's "Criticisms of Various Actors" were read.

On Monday afternoon the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. observed one of its Special Days at the home of Mrs. Fred Hayward of Centre street. Mrs. Jennie Hutter gave a paper on "A Trip to Sweden," which was illustrated by views and music. Miss Shirley Hopkins was dressed in Swedish peasant costume. After the recess, when refreshments were served, Howell's "Sleeping Car" was presented by five members of the club, Mrs. Logan, Miss Morse, Mrs. Philip Sweetser, Mrs. Hurter, and Mrs. Swift.

The West Newton Woman's Educational Club met on Friday, March 27, at 230 P. M. at the Lincoln Park Baptist Church. A business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Geo. W. St. Amant, after which the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. C. Edwin Quinn, leader of the Travel Class.

The exercises consisted of stereoscopic views of India, which were explained by Mrs. Harry Wells, as they were thrown upon the screen by Miss Olive Burrisson.

"The Hind Song" and "The Song of the Nautch Girl" were delightfully rendered by Mrs. Chester A. Morton, accompanied by Miss Morton.

A review of the manners and customs prevailing in India, was given in two excellent essays, one on "Caste" by Mrs. C. Edwin Quinn, and one on the "Parasus" by Mrs. John R. McLane. Much credit for the success of the afternoon is due to Mrs. Quinn, who during the year, has worked untiringly for the growth of the class.

There was a large attendance of club members and many guests. The usual social period followed in the tea room, under the chairmanship of Mrs. F. L. Novers was beautiful in its decorations of pink carnations.

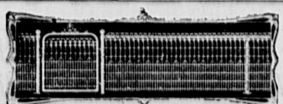

Mr. Edwin D. Mead was unable to keep his appointment to speak before the Newtonville Woman's Guild on Tuesday afternoon, but his place was filled by Prof. Charles H. Levermore of the World's Peace Foundation, who took for his subject that announced for Mr. Mead, "The United States and a United World."

The regular business meeting of the Social Science Club was held on Wednesday morning. It was decided to hold a simple luncheon after the annual meeting on April 29. The committee reports as usual were of much interest. The latter part of the morning was given to Mrs. F. H. Teller, who read an essay on "Conservation," written by one of the high school scholars, which took the prize recently offered.

Home Economics Conference

By invitation of the Auburndale Revue Club a conference "Household Management" was held under the auspices of the Home Economics department of the State Federation in the chapel of the Congregational Church in Auburndale on Tuesday afternoon, March 31. Mrs. W. A. Knowlton, president of the Review Club, welcomed the guests who came from many neighboring clubs. Two songs were delightfully rendered by Mrs. W. J. Spaulding. Mrs. S. F. Herron, chairman of the State department, then took charge of the afternoon. Miss Packard, registrar of Lasell Seminary, spoke briefly of the courses offered by her school and of its early work in this line. Lasell being a pioneer in this matter. As early as 1875 talks on domestic economy were given, and in the year 1877-8 a new department was started with classes in sewing and millinery. The next year cooking was taught by Miss Maria Parloa, this being 23 years before the opening of Simmons College and 26 years before Columbia started its department.

Mrs. Herron urged the club women to take concerted action toward exterminating the house fly and exhibited posters and other literature which can be secured from the Women's Municipal League.

The Budget, which is the basis of all household management, was treated by Miss Gertrude Bigelow. By means of a chart she pointed out the ideal division of the income as being 25 per cent. for food, 20 per cent. for rent, 15 per cent. for operating expenses, 15 per cent. for clothing, and 25 per cent. for what is termed the higher life. Incomes ranging from $2000 to $4000 follow this division quite closely, but as the income decreases the proportion for food increases and the amount for operating expenses and clothing must of necessity decrease. The necessity of keeping accounts naturally follows in order to see if one is keeping the proper balance.

Mrs. L. B. Miller spoke on "Clothes Planning." She advocates a three year basis of planning and pointed out the necessity of a knowledge of materials, of sewing, the immediate repairing of articles and good care. She touched upon some practical points which will lengthen the life of various articles.

Mrs. Henry M. Chamberlain of West Newton, a member of the department, created "Household Furnishings," advocating the buying of simple things until young people are ready to settle down in one place and not building, unless there is a reasonable prospect of staying at least ten years in the house. She urged thought for the setting of standards and asked if some are not living dishonestly, for example in the surroundings that the house comes warrant. She also suggested the difficulty that besets many a bride in living up to her wedding presents.

Mrs. E. C. Wixon in speaking of "Textiles," made a plea for the use of unbleached linen, saying there is no better way to economize. The grass bleached is very expensive and the chemically bleached has had all the life taken out of it.

Miss Elizabeth Rollins of the Garland School, spoke of "Labor-Saving Devices," pointing out many little ways in which labor may be saved, the best device being the educated, trained mind of the housekeeper.

Mrs. Charles E. Gurnis told of the care of food giving many practical suggestions and that it is wise to begin the taking of ice early in the season, if not during the whole year.

Mrs. Harriet L. B. Darling of Brookline, a graduate of Simmons College summed up what had been said and closed the meeting with an eloquent plea for the Conservation of the Mother. Among her points may be mentioned: "There is no reason for existence unless with the work there comes happiness; the economic world demands woman shall be able to support herself. It is only one woman in a million who neglects her home. Doing a thing well becomes a pleasure. It is only while doing it poorly that it becomes a drudgery."

Numerous questions followed after which the conference was adjourned for a social hour with the hostess club. A word of commendation should be said for the scientific management which was applied to the serving of the tea, whereby the large number were all cared for most expeditiously.

Concert by Bulgarian Violinist

The chapel of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, was filled on Monday evening for the concert by the little Bulgarian girl, Nedelka Simeonova. Mrs. E. W. Varney of Newton Centre, who has been in charge of the class during her stay in this country, explained to the audience that Nedelka, who is now but eleven years old, first came into possession of a violin at seven years, and after a month's practice played in a concert in Sophia. She stated that the child is a true child and while she practices four hours a day, she stops every little while to play with her dolls, of which she is very fond. Nedelka came with her father to this country with the hope of raising some money for the Bulgarian refugees and as a result she sails for home on the tenth of this month with an amount which has grown little by little to about $1000. Musical people in Boston have become so interested in her that a fund is pledged which will enable the child to study for five years and all musicians who have heard her play predict for her a brilliant future. It was no child's playing that was listened to as she appeared in number after number. She was wholly unconscious of her audience while she played and responded gladly to the demands for repeated encores. Mr. Frederick H. Henshaw, bassoonist, assisted Nedelka, and his songs met an enthusiastic audience. He, too, was most generous in response to the demands of the company. Miss Frieda Gerhard accompanied both artists. A substantial sum was netted which will be divided between the Bulgarian refugees and the Newton Federation.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The following committee to nominate officers for the ensuing year was chosen by ballot last Saturday evening: Messrs. Fred A. Gay, Wiley S. Edmonds, C. C. Smith, P. S. Jamieson, James W. French, Wm. O. Delano, and Dr. M. E. Gleason.

The ladies' and gentlemen's whist last Friday night was in charge of Mrs. Carl F. Stanley and there were about 15 tables in play. The souvenirs were awarded to Mrs. H. P. Curtiss, Mrs. Monro, Mrs. Sampson, Mrs. C. L. Pearson and Mrs. Fred A. Hubbard.

An excellent entertainment was presented last evening at the Hunnewell Club, the hall being entirely filled with an appreciative audience.

The program included two comedy sketches, "Cinders," an English play presented by Mr. Leverett D. G. Bentley, and Mrs. Ralph W. Bartlett, was most enthusiastically received. Mr. Bentley was imitative in the role of "Jack Warrenter," an English barrister, and Mrs. Bartlett, as "Cinders," was a decided "hit."

The farce comedy, entitled "A Regular Six," was ably presented by W. V. Marsh, H. P. Curtiss, Phillips Byfield, Howard Hayward, Derry Philbrick, Mrs. Edward M. Moore, Mrs. Henry P. Curtiss, Mrs. E. P. Tuttle and Miss Barbara Wellington. Dancing followed the entertainment.

PLAYGROUND AT NEWTON

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Since the agreement was secured from Mrs. Whittemore to lease something over 100,000 square feet of her land on Tremont Street at $600.00 a year for a public playground, with privilege of holding over at the same rental so long as the land is not built upon or sold, I have been interested to read the suggestions that have been made, first by Mr. Stone in last week's GRAPHIC and next by A. B. C. in this week's Newton Times, as to securing the location on Charlesbank road for a public playground.

In one of those articles the Charlesbank road property has been described as not needing any grading, as being admirably adapted for a playground and recommendation was made that steps be taken at once to secure the property. Furthermore it was suggested that before any playground is decided upon the vacant lots in the Ward be looked over with a view of securing one of them. Now to take up the last of these suggestions first. It has long been understood that it has been impossible to purchase any land in ward 7 suitable for a playground. The Newton Improvement Association appointed a Committee to try to get a location and they reported back that they had found it impossible to secure any such location and among the properties that they tried to acquire was the property of Charlesbank road. An immediate protest went up from the people of that neighborhood and a paper insisting that this land should not be acquired for a playground was universally signed. Within a week the owner of this property has said that so long as his neighbors object he certainly will not dispose of it to be used for playground purposes.

Now as to the Charlesbank road property not needing any grading, every foot of that land slopes towards the river and the cost of grading would be enormous. Even if it was graded the property would not be large enough for such sports as football and baseball. It is a pretty spot but it is not adapted to a playground except for small children and what we need in ward 7 is a playground for children of all ages.

The Tremont street property is the natural location. It is but three short blocks from Bigelow School. It is so located that no resident can possibly be harmed by the playground being located there. It is also adjacent to a use by all the children of the ward. So am the people of that neighborhood. The playground Commission has suggested that we could have a football field, a full sized baseball field and tennis courts, besides a place for small children to play, and yet it would not be necessary to grade the entire grounds this year.

A. B. C. has deplored the fixing up of the property for the owner and yet our City Forester has given an estimate that the grounds can be graded at an expense of only $500.00. Whether his figures are correct or not they show that the expense will be comparatively slight. It is proposed to not seed the ground until late in August when the grounds can be used for skating and in the spring we will have a beautiful sod. If the owner's offer is accepted, not only will the ward have an attractive but an adequate playground at a very small rental for at least five years, and after that five years we will have a beautiful spot there instead of an unsightly dump.

The City can well afford to stand the cost of grading, because if the site was purchased and presented to the City it would in the five years of the lease lose about $2000. in taxes on the tract. If we lease the property the owner will have to pay that $2000. HENRY W. JARVIS, 77 Pembroke Street.

REAL ESTATE

E. Burnard Squire reports the sale at Auburndale for Mary A. Grant of Needham, of 28,000 feet of land on Hancock street. Albion L. Cummings was the purchaser, and has resold through the same office about 15,000 feet to Laura E. Simonds. Ground is being broken for the two dwellings.

Jennie B. Gratto has conveyed to Martha A. O'bear the estate 18 Higgins street, valued at $3,000. Everett H. Gratto has purchased through E. B. Squire a lot on Chaske avenue, where he is erecting a house for occupancy. Another sale is for John R. McLean of his 8 room house on 31 Sharon avenue to Henry Wilson of Dorchester, who already occupies. The property is valued at $3,200.

William J. Cozens, the real estate broker, of Newton Highlands, has engaged the services of Mr. Everett C. Winslow of Newton Centre. Winslow has already assumed his new duties, and will be found at the Newton Corner and Newton Highlands offices.

If you'd like to know what's going on in this busy town of traffic, just step into the corner store and buy a Newton Graphic.

The prize composition will be printed in due course in the local Newton publications.

BASEBALL

Baseball is again in the limelight at the Newton High School, the candidates being out for practice twice this week on Claffin Field, Newtonville.

Already more than 65 men are seeking positions, and with the numerous likely candidates out for the various positions, it will take several weeks to decide the better man.

Coach Dickerman has practically decided to play Capt. Ralph again in the outfield, where he performed so brilliantly for two seasons. Last year Hyatt occupied first base, and although his work was very good, it was a hard matter to find another man who could cover the amount of ground that he did.

Thomas King, who has had a little experience in the squad, will occupy first base this year according to present plans, while practically the infield of last year will be intact. Charles Bryson is again out for second base. "Tip" O'Neill, the captain-elect of the track team, will fill the short stop position and "Polly" Harris, last year's third baseman is seeking his old position. The above players and Higgins, who pitched several good games last year are the veterans around which the team will be built.

The backstop berth will be filled by a new man, both Newell and Chivers showing good form at the present time. Dunmore, the hockey player, is seeking an infield position, while Keller and Nickerson are showing up well in the pitching department. The outfield positions, with the exception of left field, which Capt. Hyatt will play, are being hotly contested by Fredioni, Vanska, Johnson, Irish and Hughes.

It is expected that scrub games will be started next week, during which time the squad will be cut.

DEATH OF MR. BISCHOFF

The news reached Newton on Sunday, of the death in London, of Mr. Charles E. Bischoff, at the age of forty-one years. Seven years ago Mr. Bischoff married Miss Alice Edwards Colby, daughter of Mr. Joseph L. Colby of Newton Centre, and granddaughter of the late Gardner Colby.

Mr. Bischoff only a few months ago was suddenly stricken with a fatal disease causing extreme suffering at the last which he bore with courage and Christian fortitude. He was a graduate of the University of Oxford, and at the time of his death was a partner with his father in a large law practice in the city of London, he having shown marked ability as a lawyer and advanced rapidly.

Personally he was a fine type of an English gentleman, of strong character, quiet and lovable, and respected by all who met him.

He leaves a widow and three children, a boy and two girls.

Mrs. Bischoff's parents have been with her this winter, fortunately so in her time of great sorrow, and she will have the deepest sympathy of her many friends in Newton who knew her and loved her.

The decorations will be of Palms and Easter Lillies and will be arranged to lead up to and form a setting for "The Angel" which has been loaned to the Sunday School for the occasion, by the artist, William Baxter Clossen. This canvas is the original study for Mr. Clossen's "The Angel," a picture so deeply religious in its feeling, so spiritually uplifting and so beautiful in its itself that it can but be an inspiration to those who see it.
Mr. Clossen has been away from Massachusetts for some time, but has been living among us during the past winter, and it is hoped by his many friends, that he will continue to make his home in Newton when not engaged in work elsewhere.

SOME INCREASE PROBABLE

Hearing Before Public Service Commission On B. & A. Fares

The hearing held by the Public Service Commission on Wednesday morning on the proposed increase in passenger fares on the line of the Boston & Albany road in Newton was attended by representatives of the various Improvement Societies in Newton and by several citizens.
In opening the hearing, Chairman MacLeod made the following statement of facts in the case:
"On November 30, 1910, the General Passenger Agent of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad in New York issued a tariff of local Passenger Fares (later filed as M. P. S. C. No. 30 to take effect Jan. 1, 1911) between all stations upon the Boston and Albany Railroad. The preceding tariff is not on file, but it is clear that a great many of the local fares at different points on the road were less than the general basis of 2 1-4c a mile and No. 30 undertook to introduce that basis from Boston to Albany.
For some reason (which has not been ascertained owing to the death of the Boston and Albany G. P. A., Mr. Hanson) eight days later, on December 7, 1910, a new tariff, also taking effect on January 1, 1911, was published, which continued the old rates in effect but classified them as limited fares, the only difference being that one was susceptible to stop-over privileges and the cheaper one was not.
Since January 1, 1911, therefore, there have been two classes of tickets on the circuit, the limited and unlimited. Most of the business has been done at the cheaper figure by means of the unlimited fares. This tariff is filed under M. P. S. C. No. 29.
On February 21, 1914, a new local passenger tariff designated as M. P. S. C. No. 37, was filed to take effect March 24, 1914. This tariff cancelled the limited rates leaving only the unlimited available. This cancellation notice was suspended and both rates are still in force."

General Passenger Agent Walter A. Barrows for the Company then said that all fares on the B. & A. west of Riverside were on a basis of 2 1-4 cents a mile and it was the desire of the Company to make this a uniform basis on its entire system. The increase in revenue was problematical, altho they did figure on about $5000 increase. No change was contemplated in the price of commutation tickets. In answer to questions Mr. Barrows said that density of traffic was a factor in commutation rates but in his opinion did not apply to the occasional passenger who used the single fare.
Mr. Charles A. Andrews, president of the Waban Improvement Society, said that the increase was of minor importance to Waban, affecting only an occasional dinner guest or some servant girls, but if it was in any way a precursor of an increase in commutation rates, he would object most strenuously. He suggested the company might endeavor to improve its equipment, altho that was not up for consideration. Alderman Joseph W. Bartlett said that as this was not a revenue measure, he would protest against the proposed increase.
In answer to suggestion from Chairman MacLeod, Mr. James Kingman, president of the Newton Highlands Society, said his society deemed the proposed increase altogether too much.
Mr. William Allen of the Lower Falls protested against any increase as the service was poor.
Alderman Harry D. Cabot for the Newtonville Improvement Association said the city was endeavoring to attract new residents, and that the single fare became quite a factor, without entering into an elaborate explanation.
Chairman MacLeod after conferring with his associates stated that the Commission might be willing to consider a rate based on two cents a mile

Churches and Organizations Petition the Board of Aldermen

The following memorial to the board of aldermen has been circulated recently in this city and largely signed.
"We the undersigned are authorized to endorse the following resolution and send the same to your honorable body, Whereas the licensing by the Newton board of aldermen of expressmen to deliver intoxicating liquors throughout the city is the cause of drunkenness, and disorder, as well as moral degeneracy and great economic loss, therefore be it Resolved that we as citizens of Newton's churches and charitable organizations petition your honorable body not to grant licenses to expressmen or other carriers to deliver intoxicating liquors within the city of Newton.
This has been signed by the Elliot Church, Lincoln Park Baptist church, First Baptist church, Trinity church, the First church and Methodist churches of Newton Centre, the Upper Falls Methodist church, the Newton Methodist church, the Clafin Club and the Women's Class of the Newtonville Methodist church, the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Associated Charities and the Men's Forum of the West Newton Congregational Church.

In addition to its work of obtaining petitions against granting these licenses, the Newton City Council has placed the following posters about the city, The Pony Express, enemy of the Home must go from Newton, May 1st Dissolution of Partnership, Newton and the Pony Express May 1st, 1914 When the Saloon on Wheels Goes out of Newton, a New Era Comes in May 1st.

DREDGING CHARLES RIVER

Work was begun this week on dredging the channel of the Charles River between the Galen street bridge, Watertown, and the islands near the North Beacon street bridge, at Faneuil. The channel will be deepened and widened so as to have five feet of water at all times of the year. The material taken out by the dredger will be placed on the southerly bank of the river, where it is expected a boulevard will be constructed at some future date.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

The regular meeting of the Newton Board of Trade will be held in Board of Trade Hall, Newtonville, on Monday, April 13, at 7.30 P. M. Some very important questions are up for discussion and every member should make a special effort to attend.
An entertainment will be given by the Newtonville Glee Club at 9.30.

but it was doubtful if 2 1-4 cents would be approved. In reply to this suggestion Mr. Albert M. Lyon questioned the matter of mileage and Mr. Barrows said that the road had recently changed its milestones as they had been based upon the old location on Kneeland street.

Mr. James A. Waters entered a protest against the increase from the South side and the City Solicitor stated that in view of his instructions from the city he should protest against anything higher than a 2 cent a mile rate.
The Commission took the matter under advisement, but it is quite evident that some increase in single passenger fares will be approved.

MR. ROSS RESIGNS

Street Commissioner Accepts Superintendency of Newton Cemetery

Mr. Charles W. Ross, Street Commissioner and Superintendent of Streets since November 1889, tendered his resignation last Saturday morning and has accepted the position of superintendent of the Newton Cemetery, from which his son, Mr. H. Wilson Ross, has just resigned.
Mr. Ross was tendered the superintendency of the Cemetery at a meeting of the trustees of the cemetery on Friday afternoon and promptly accepted. Mr. Ross states that he had become tired of the numerous complaints to which he had been subjected on account of the lack of appropriations to do all the work desired by the residents of Newton, and this, together with rumors that Mayor Childs might make some changes in his department, caused him to take the opportunity offered him by the trustees of the cemetery to relieve himself of cares and troubles of the Street Department.
Mr. Ross was appointed superintendent of streets by Mayor Burr in 1889 and was appointed Street Commissioner when the present charter went into effect in 1898. During Mayor Cobb's administration he was appointed a member of the Massachusetts Highway Commission by Governor Wolcott and served three years. He was offered a re-appointment but declined as the city government wished his entire time. During the years Mr. Ross has had charge of our streets, he has never had a strike among his employees and his honesty and integrity have never been questioned, altho he has expended several millions of dollars for labor and materials. He is a past president and one of the most influential members of the Massachusetts Highway Association, and is one of the best road builders in the state, and has a national reputation in that respect. He is a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons and of Newton Royal Arch Chapter.

It is a coincidence that Mr. Ross resigned as assistant superintendent of the Newton Cemetery, to become superintendent of streets of the city, and now resigns from city service to return to his first kind of work. It is also curious to note that the superintendency of the Newton Cemetery has always been in the Ross family. Mr. Henry Ross, the first superintendent, being succeeded by Mr. H. Wilson Ross, thirteen years ago, and the latter being now succeeded by Mr. Charles W. Ross. Mr. Ross will soon remove from his present home on Hull street, Newtonville, to the superintendent's residence inside the Cemetery grounds.

Through the courtesy of the Brae-Burn Country Club, of whose golf committee Harry L. Ayer is chairman, the West Newton club will again hold the State amateur meeting this year, the dates being July 15 to 18. Woodland was asked to stage a tournament, but declined, after a meeting held a few nights ago.
This will be the 12th year that the State title has been played for, and Brae-Burn has had the tournament in 1906, 1910, and 1912.

Aldermen In Session Six Hours At Most Interesting Meeting of the Year

The board of aldermen fully earned on laying out of Beaumont avenue and on sewer in Lexington street, leave to withdraw on abatement of betterment assessment of John Shorten on Faxon street, no action necessary on transfer of care of City Hall to Buildings department, water mains authorized in Chaske avenue, $380. Dale street, $185. and Rossmore street, $190, license for a carriage granted Alfred H. Geyer, 1 carriage and 1 auto for hire granted to Fred L. Crawford, pole locations granted the Edison Co. on Pelham street, Willow street and Court street, and grants of $1900 for March expenses and of $1300 for April expenses were authorized.

The first debate took place on the report of the Public Works committee adhering to its previous recommendation of approving plans for a span of 50 feet for the new railroad bridge over Boylston street. Alderman Barker stated that since the committee had acted a new estimate of cost had been prepared by the railroad engineers, showing that the cost to the city of a 90-foot span would be $31,000. Mr. Barker said that the situation was quite clear, only two reasons being advanced in favor of this large expense to the city, first, because the railroad company was obliged to rebuild the bridge at this time, and second because of the danger to travel at this point. Mr. Barker argued that the danger was far less than stated, that the railway cars should be made to stop before passing under the bridge as the cars now stop at railroad bridges on Washington street, that it was not near as dangerous as the present condition of the Weston bridge. He believed that the proposed widening would only benefit automobilists who passed thru Newton and for whom we had two other thoroughfares at present. There were many things the city ought to do for its own citizens before this bridge should be widened, and far better places to spend the money. The district was growing but slowly only a half dozen houses facing Boylston street having been built since the street was widened ten years ago.

Alderman Bartlett favored widening the street and the bridge at the present time.
Alderman Richardson said that all agreed that the street was unfinished and must be completed at some future time, and that there was less traffic there than would be if the road was in a passable condition. This section of the city was developing rapidly and during the past four years had increased about $99,000 in valuations. There was also an element of danger which couldn't be cured until the street was widened. Under the figures as submitted this widening could be done now for $11,000 less than it would cost if postponed until later, and it was policy to do it now. This figure was based on present cost of labor and materials and if present increases continued, it would be fair to say that five years from now, it would cost fully $15,000 more to do the work. The yearly cost to the city of a $28,000 expense would be $1960, the cost of carrying $39,000, would be $2800, yearly, and interest on $1200, yearly would be saved by doing work now. Mr. Richardson called attention to the present cost to the city because city governments of the past had not provided for certain improvements such as Nonantum square and changes in school buildings, and said that Newton is suffering from the very policy it is now advised to follow.

Alderman Alley called attention to the fact that the $28,000, did not include the cost of the street work.
Alderman Cobb stated that Boylston street was the natural highway from the Upper Falls to Boston and was used considerably.
Alderman Clark said the city owed it to the land owners here to make development possible and he was satisfied that the bridge must be built within five or six years and that it was the best policy to do it now.
The report of the committee approving a fifty-foot span was then accepted by a vote of 10 to 8.

The veto of the Mayor of the concurrent order of the Edison Co. in Washington street was reported upon adversely by the Finance committee, Alderman Rice saying that the mayor evidently did not know that the Company was under contract to do this work, that there was an agreement made in April, 1913, to do this work in 1914. Underground work had been first done under Mayor Weeks with Mr. agreement with the Company to do $100,000 worth of work in five years, this was renewed under Mayor Hutchinson and about $173,000 had been

On recommendation of committees, the proffer of land for foot path between Birch Hill road and Otis street was declined with thanks, urinals authorized in the Adams and Old Clafin schools, hearings ordered for April 27 on taking land for sewer in Waban Hill road, Radcliffe road, Tamworth road, and off Woodcliff road, land was taken and a sewer ordered in Padstow road, and sewers ordered in Woodward, Chestnut streets and Delmore road, leave to withdraw granted

It is difficult, indeed, to attempt to pass an unbiased judgment on the official work of a person with whom I have been in close official and personal touch for about a quarter of a century. And yet, I cannot allow the resignation of Mr. Charles W. Ross to pass without some editorial comment, which undoubtedly will be somewhat prejudiced by my personal feelings.Mr. Ross has given the city of Newton twenty-five years of the best part of his life. He has rendered faithful, conscientious and honest service, having only the city's interests at heart.
During this time he has made a reputation for himself as the best road builder in the state, and possibly the country, and has given Newton the most up to date system of roads in the country. His study of the new requirements in road construction due to automobile and auto truck traffic has resulted in roads which attract the visits and letters of road makers from all over the country. It is true that he has been hampered by lack of appropriations and has not maintained the high standard set by some of our streets, all over the city, but Mr. Ross has made the best use which any one could have made of the amount given him to expend.Mr. Ross has had an enviable reputation in the handling of the labor question, having had charge of a large number of men for many years, without any labor troubles whatever. He has also been in charge of millions of dollars of work, often involving many hard and dangerous propositions, and has never been responsible for a serious accident.Personally I am glad that Mr. Ross will be freed from the cares and responsibilities of the Street Department, where he has often had to bear the burdens of others, but it seems a great pity that the knowledge and experience which he has acquired during the past quarter century, cannot be used for the benefit of the great traveling public, at a time when every man of his type is valuable.The best wishes of hundreds of friends will follow Mr. Ross in his new position.The feeling expressed at the recent meeting of the aldermen over the recent reinstatement of a patrolman in the Police department, indicative of the sentiment of the entire community.
Mayor Childs is making a great mistake, even if he believes an injustice was done this particular officer.
The city of Newton does not want that kind of a man on its police force, as the mayor will learn if he takes any other but drastic action on the charges which are now officially before him.One phase of the situation was emphasized by the action of the aldermen, and that is that no appropriation will be made to cover the salary which he is supposed to receive. With the failure of the aldermen to make an appropriation for this salary, the provision of the city charter prohibiting any officer or board from creating a liability in excess of the appropriations, may inject a new element into the situation and if the courts should rule, as they have in other cases, that the officer creating such liability is personally responsible, it is possible that Mayor Childs may have to pay this man's salary himself.The probable action of the Public Service Commission in approving an increase in single fares in this city to a rate of two cents a mile, will probably be satisfactory to residents of this city, although it is hard to see where the company will obtain any additional revenue therefrom.

Refusal to grant permits to transport intoxicating liquors in this city should only be done after the most careful consideration of the effects such action will have on the city. If Newton will be overrun, as some maintain, by the teams and automobiles of the breweries and liquor stores of Boston, present conditions are undoubtedly more satisfactory. If our citizens who now protest these excesses, will accept the situation, and discontinue their purchase of liquor, then the permits can be refused. The aldermen should go extremely slow on this delicate question and remember that the few persons who are so strongly advocating this action, may not represent the great body of our citizens.The formulation of a policy in regard to future school appropriations is a step in the right direction, provided future aldermen and school committees accept that same policy.

PLAYGROUND FOR NEWTON

To the Graphic:—

Mr. Jarvis has shown a commendable interest in the matter of a playground for the young folks of this part of Newton, but still he has failed in his plans. He only looks ahead for a few years when the search for a playground will come up again with much difficulty in deciding on one then than to-day, because open spaces will be harder to find as the wards grow.His choice is too much at one side, is too near the Brighton line and offers too good a chance for the young folks at Oak Square to find a playground near at hand.As to the objections of the abut-tors on the Charlesbank road to having a playground along the River there which will always keep the view of the River open with the fine outlook on the hills beyond, it does seem as if a little consideration could show them that this is much more desirable would add much more to the value of their property than to have the lot covered with apartment houses or small cottages.The slope of the land for baseball is not too great, though it may be for tennis courts or football, but that would take only a small part of the field.The importance of a swimming pool and landing stage for boats has completely overlooked in his advancing of the marsh on Tremont street, which can be made flat, but it will be extremely hot in the summer days.

NEWTON Y. M. C. A. NOTES

A very interesting talk was given last Monday night at the Fellowship Club by Arthur E. Sibley of the American Powder Co. He told the young men all about the manufacture of powder.At the Board of Directors' Meeting last Monday evening the $1000, which was left the Association by Mrs. Emma L. Waitt, was put aside as an endowment fund, the income only to be used for current expenses. Let us hope that the Endowment Fund will continue to grow so that the Association may be in a position to undertake important lines of work.One of the needs of the Association at present is a site for a summer camp. There are many boys connected with the Association and young men, too, who would be glad of a camp supervised by the Association where the expenses would not be out of reach of the young men and boys of limited means. If any of the citizens of Newton are interested in helping the Association secure a summer camp or have a camp site which they would be glad to turn over for this summer to the Association we should be glad to know about it at once.A group of Association boys under the leadership of Mr. Reese, the Boys' Work Secretary, are seeing New York this week. Those who are making the trip are Robert Cunningham, Richard Westwood, Gordon Newhall, Jack Woodbridge, Bunny Wheeler, William Fawcett and Paul Nash.The small playground of the Y. M.
C. A. will be thrown open to groups of boys in the 5, 6 and 7 grades, who desire to play baseball, regardless of membership in the Association.The Physical Director's office so that the time of games will not conflict with the regular schedule. This plan has the approval of Mr. Herman, the supervisor of the playgrounds.Mr. Arthur Kendrick will tell the members of the Fellowship Club about his trip to Bermuda, at the meeting next Monday. Supper will be served at 6.20.

A POETIC PROTEST

Frederick W. Emerson of Newton Highlands has sent the following poetic protest against the repeal of the Panama tolls bill, to Senator John W.
Weeks.My dear Senator—
As one of your constituents, In the city where you live, I wish to ask a favor which You easily can give.I am descended from the stock Which threw off the British yoke;And in the days of long ago It was a master stroke.Now in these days wherein much changeIs seen on every hand, A true and lofty patriotism Is still in great demand.Our country, which so long has beenThe home of th' brave and free, Should still maintain its liberty Where'er its bounds may be.So my dear Senator, I ask That when you come to vote Upon the Panama Repeal
You carefully will noteThe sentiment that now prevails Throughout our native land;
And many eyes will scrutinize
The vote within your hand.Be loyal to our country great,
And all that it may own;
The liberty which we enjoy Is better than a throne.No toll for coastwise vessels, please;No vote for a repeal; To arbitrate, I really think,
Is better for our weal.

Interesting Letter From Senator Weeks On Current EventsThe following letter, written by Senator John W. Weeks to the Republican candidate in the recent contest for Congressman in Boston, makes such interesting comments on the Wilson administration that it is given in full.Dear Mr. Brier—I note in the Boston papers a statement made by your Democratic opponent relating to business conditions, in which he makes some comments on a recent letter written by Senator Lodge and especial reference to the recently passed currency bill, using as a reason for the credit which should be given to the Administration the fact that I spoke and voted for the bill.Referring first to the latter proposition, the statement that I voted for the bill is correct, but I can say without qualification that if it had been passed as it was originally introduced in the House, in fact, even as it passed the House, where it was amended in three hundred or four hundred particulars, it would have been a calamity, and would not have received, in my judgment, the support of any trained financier or financial student for any other than a political reason.Great pressure was brought by the Administration to push this bill through the Senate as it came from the House and it was only by the resistance of the Republicans in the Senate, united with one Democrat out of 49, which prevented this being done.
The delay which ensued gave time for investigation and study of the question which convinced the Senate that very many changes were necessary, and 60 per cent of the bill was revised before it finally passed. After having studied the question nearly 90 days, I am confident that not a senator, Democrat or Republican would have voted for the bill as it was passed through the House by means of a caucus rule which limited consideration and prevented amendment on the floor.Therefore, if there are creditable persons from a partisan standpoint for obtaining sound and satisfactory currency legislation it is to the Republicans of the United States Senate.
Every good citizen desires stable and sound business conditions and that both capital and labor shall be regularly employed, bringing to capital a reasonable return and to labor suitable wages. Irregularity of employment is not beneficial to anyone and the most heavy onerous tax levied on our citizens who are included in the class of labor. I say this because it gives me no satisfaction to know that business is depressed; that an unusual number of men are out of employment; that capital is timid and hesitating about undertaking new commitments and that there is a general feeling that conditions are likely to be worse rather than better.This is not a theory, it is a fact. We are dealing with the present, and it is not only fair, but it is necessary, to try to determine the reasons for this condition and place the responsibility where it belongs. I do not now and never have charged that all the political and industrial ills are resulting or have resulted from the success of the Democratic party, but I have always contended and contend now that the policies of the Republican party have been such that the greatest benefits have come to the greatest number of our citizens. Generally speaking, when the Republican party has been in control of affairs business has been good and, generally speaking, when the Democratic party has been in control business has felt the blighting effect of their national policies.It can be demonstrated—not within the limits of a letter of this kind, but in the discussion in which you will engage—that the results which were promised by the election of 1912 have not been realized. The tariff has been lowered and a greater proportion of our importations than ever before are on the free list.The principal reason advanced for a reduction in tariff rates has been that it would reduce the cost of living, which has not resulted from the passage of the Underwood bill; moreover, competent observers, however, have believed that this condition was dependent not to any considerable extent on the tariff, but very largely on the condition of supply and demand. It has not increased our foreign trade, and, in fact, has had no material effect on it except to increase importations in some lines, and the reason that importations have not been greater is due to the comparatively good business which has obtained abroad and the fact that foreign manufacturers have not been equipped to invade this market.As one of the results of tariff revision, there is unusual depression in our industries. If anyone in your district doubts this statement he may substantiate it by inquiring at the Readville shops of the New York & New Haven Railroad Company, where, I am informed, there are 1200 less men employed than there were a year ago; or at the Walworth Manufacturing Company in South Boston, where, it is said, the force is only slightly more than one-half the usual number of men employed; or, in fact, at the doors of any considerable industry in Massachusetts, for this condition is general, and even in the cases where a relatively normal force is being employed, it is being done more largely to maintain the organization and give employment to the labor connected with the industry than because of profits which are inuring to those who own the business.I might add in further confirmation of this statement that the evidence submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission within a few days shows that the net earnings of the railroads of the country for the past seven months have decreased $51,000,000, and that the clearings of the country, as shown by statements of national banks, have averaged to show a decrease during the past three months of about 6 per cent. This measures the difference between good and poor business.

Mrs. Edward Mellus.But even giving such credit as may be due the Administration for the passage of the tariff and the banking and currency bills, certainly there are other features of the control of the Democratic party in national affairs in which our citizens cannot take any satisfaction—such as the Mexican situation. Everyone hopes that the policy or more properly speaking, the lack of policy, which has obtained in that case may be worked out so that we will not become more largely involved in that situation, but no body sees what the outcome is to be and there is universal opinion among those qualified to pass judgment that there has never been a foreign situation handled in a more unskillful manner.I believe the people of Massachusetts are in favor of the maintenance of the civil service policy which at present obtains and extending it wherever it can be properly done.
During this Administration there have been repeated infractions of this policy in such instances as the appointment of additional employees needed in the collection of the income tax, in the employees to be connected with the reserve banking system, and especially in the case of those connected with our foreign affairs.Within the past year substantially every minister to a foreign country has been changed, even those who had been promoted from the position of under-secretaries as a result of efficiency in the service, and who, it was believed, would be continued because of superior service, notwithstanding were not specifically covered by any civil service law. In practically every case where competent men in the diplomatic service have been removed their places have been filled by those who have had no training for that service, but have demonstrated their fitness by long years of devotion to the cause of their country.Your Democratic opponent, in the statement to which I have referred, induces in the old and well worn policy of promising for the future results which have not yet materialized, but this will not satisfy people when they are hungry or when there is a prospect of their being hungry.The increasing of freight rates five per cent, a question which is now being considered, might give a temporary impetus to business, but the real difficulty is fundamental with the Democratic party. The policy of the Administration has been and the policy of the party is to make concerted attacks on organized business, this extends from the time when the President pleasantly suggests that business men who did not comply with certain conditions should be hung as high as Haman, through the days of the past year when we have had from various sources, especially from the Secretary of the Department of Commerce, as-urances that business men or the affairs of business men were going to be investigated by the Department, whether there was any legal authority for doing so or not did not seem to influence these statements—down to the present days, when the calendars of committees are filled with drastic and generally ill-considered schemes to regulate business or to curtail or restrict that business.These are the potent reasons why men are out of employment; why there is a large amount of idle capital available for use, but because of the unsettlement will not be used in new commitments until these attacks cease; for this situation the Democratic party, and the Administration, and I believe that when the people become convinced that their affairs are being unwisely administered and ineffective laws have been passed, that others are in contemplation, which will adversely affect industry, employment and confidence, they will take the only natural course, which is to elect a party of sound business, sound currency and common sense to the control of the nation.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Another phase of the railroad situation may be mentioned, and that is Newton thru a large addition to the state tax to the lessened value of railroad stocks. The Banker and Tradesman calls attention to this matter in the following words."The State of Massachusetts faces a problem this year on account of the decline in New Haven, Boston & Maine and other securities. New Haven last year was selling at over 118; now around 70. Boston & Maine at around 44, compares with 71; American Telephone at 122, against 132, and Boston Elevated at 82, compares with 106.
Boston & Maine paid no tax last year because of shrinkage in market value.
In 1910 this road paid $117,358. As a result of the decline in New Haven, full 48 points, its franchise tax will be about $111,000, compared with $416,388 last year. The excess of market over property valuation which is taxed locally, has dwindled from $23-235,969 to about $6,100,000. This assumes that deductions are about the same."In 1913 the ten largest corporation taxpayers paid the treasury $3,405,510 in taxes, the smallest amount in three years, and it now looks as if at least half a million less would be paid this year.In addition Representative White of this city is said to state that there is a possibility of a state tax of $1,000-000 this year, which will be moving some.The city of Boston is trying to kill the bill recently reported requiring a two platoon fire force in cities of 50,000 or over. This bill was originally drawn to include cities of 40,000, which would affect Newton, but was changed in committee to the larger
$450,000 to its fire expense the first year and would eventually cost $750, 000 annually. Small amounts like this, however, don't seem to affect the Legislature seriously.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—The great crowds that have attended the performances of "Under Cover" which enters upon the seventeenth week of its engagement at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, during the Lenten season, is conclusive evidence of the immense popularity of the piece and adds to the great number of tributes paid to this remarkable play. "Under Cover" represents the highest phase of New York society life and would be smuglers. It is replete with thrills, mystery and surprises, that keeps you intensely interested from start to finish. There is plenty of action in each act and the charm of the play lies in a delightful love story that runs as an undercurrent. The play is staged by Selwyn and Company who have paid careful attention to the smallest detail. The characters are essayed by one of the most capable companies seen in Boston in years headed by William C. O. F. Laughton, who is seen in one of the best roles of his long stage career. There will be an extra matinee on Monday April 20, Patriots' Day, in addition to the regular Thursday and Saturday matinees.

CORT THEATRE—Amidst gales of laughter, melody, beauty of femininity and scenic embellishments, Kitty Gordon and her perfect supporting company have entered upon the fourth week of their engagement at the Cort Theatre. Here is a comedy with music that to the busy business man can only be described as "A Laugh or a Song Hit Every Minute." This merry entertainment is a classic as regards "Novelty" as it is entirely different from anything you have ever seen. The play tells a most charming, intensely interesting and highly amusing story, and likewise fairly revels in an Aladdin-like series of musical surprises all of which is topped with an excellence of cast which includes in addition to the lustrous Kitty Gordon, Charlotte Greenwood and Sydney Grant who have likewise registered their hit of their careers.

LODGES

A successful dancing party was held Tuesday evening in Odd Fellows' Hall, West Newton, under the auspices of Tennyson Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F. more than 50 couples being present. The affair was in charge of Mrs. John Manter, chairman; Mrs. Esther E. Bacon, Mrs. Richard A. Farmer, Mrs. Adie E. Peck, Mrs. J. C. Carley and Mrs. Ella E. Mason.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE—One of the most important offerings of the Boston theatrical season will be seen at B. F. Keith's Theatre the week of April 13th. Dazie, the charming American dancer, will present for the first time in Boston, Sir James M. Barrie's play for an ancient family entitled "Pantaloon." This charming fairy fantasy is one of the most delightful plays that the famous Scotch playwright ever turned out. "Pantaloon" is a story of the home life of actors of the Harlequinade as done in England years ago by the author of "The Little Minister." Dazie plays the role of "Columbine," and it would be hard to imagine a more beautiful and appealing little Columbine than the famous American danseuse. A splendid company, including William C. Schroder as Harlequinade, James Kearney as Pantaloon, Harry O. Taylor as Clown, and W. C. Tucker as the Policeman, support her, while the production was staged by William C. Seymour, general stage director for Charles Frohman. The two scenes, showing the interior of Pantaloon's house on a London street, are faithfully depicted with great care to detail. "Pantaloon" should prove a great feature for children of every age from six to sixty. Fraut Foagry, the Dublin minstrel and prince of Irish story tellers, brings an inexhaustible fund of new stories, and others will be the Warner-Amoroso Troupe; Carl Henry and Nellie France; Ben Linn; O'Brien, Havel and Co.; Alexander Brothers; Belis and Chidlow; and Gere and Delaney.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE—Shakespeare will once again hold the Castle Square stage. "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be given next week, and it will be an elaborate spectacular production with stage settings, lighting effects from designs by Livingston Platt, whose work has already been favorably received at the Castle Square. The cast will include the entire company, with Mr. Craig as Lyander, Mr. Carleton as Demetrius, Mr. Walker as Bottom, Miss Olsson as Helena, Miss Gill as Hermia, and Miss Mary Young as Puck. "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be given for only one week.

Those interested in brightening their homes should not fail to see the exhibition of Electric and Gas Lighting Fixtures as shown by McKenney & Waterbury Co., Franklin St., corner Congress, Boston.

done to the present time. If not spent this year on Washington street, it will be spent in some other city. The Company is willing that the city should resurface the street after the conduit and would pay the bill for the same. The city should encourage underground work as much as possible. Mr. Rice thought a mistake had been made last year in allowing Washington street to be resurfaced when the Company had made its agreement to locate this conduit here.

Alderman Cox said the matter was not a contract but only an agreement, but that the order ought to pass over the veto.

Alderman Richardson said that it was better policy to put conduits in streets before they were resurfaced. The order was then passed over the veto by a vote of 17 to 1 Alderman Murphy voting no.

The order accepting chapter 423, acts 1909, authorizing granting licenses to sell ice cream, soda water, fruit, etc. on Sunday was recommended by the license committee.

Alderman Murphy opposed the order as opening the way for a flood of petitions for Sunday opening from every fruit dealer in the city. There was no public demand for this action and Waltham had not had the best of experience under it.

Alderman Blanchard said that citizens would not permit a large number of petitioners to be granted. He called attention to the places on the shores of Charles river which were clearly not common victuallers.

Alderman Bartlett thought we were getting along quite well and need not open the door for trouble.

President Blakemore took the floor and opposed the order saying it would lead to wide openings Sunday, as the board couldn't consistently oppose granting the petition of any reputable fruit dealer.

Alderman Rice said the board would have to perjure itself in granting common victuallers licenses under present conditions.

Alderman Cox said he knew that places were open illegally on Sunday and that the waiting rooms were not properly equipped. The law, he said, says one thing and we do another. He believed the board ought to be able to grant Sunday licenses in a proper manner.

Alderman Murphy said that all these Common Victuallers ought to be able to serve a light lunch as a condition for Sunday opening.

Alderman Cabot thought the responsibility was on the license committee and that they ought not to favor licenses to persons not equipped.

The order was then recommitted to the license committee.

Alderman Bartlett opposed the order for $580,000 increase on Congress street widening saying that if we cannot spend money on Boylston street, we surely ought not to spend money here. He could name he said, many places on Commonwealth avenue which needed widening as much as this and were fully as dangerous.

Alderman Rice and Clark favored the order and it was passed. Alderman Bartlett being alone in opposing it.

The Committee on Schools reported on the school appropriation substantially as follows:

"Your Committee has given considerable study to the subject of the school budget for 1914, and has endeavored to arrive at a conclusion that will be reasonable and just, and concerned as for the best interests of the city of Newton, and at the same time conserve the high standard of our Newton School System.

"It does not seem necessary at this time to enter upon a comparison of Newton with other cities and while such comparisons are interesting, it does not help us materially in the solution of our own problem. Newton must face its own conditions and meet them on the basis of its possibilities and revenues. We have set a high standard and we alone must decide whether we shall keep up that standard, and comparison with other cities is of no value unless we know exactly what other cities are doing for their children and whether the results obtained are of equal value with ours. The Superintendent, Dr. Spaulding, has given us a list of items or suggestions wherein a cut in expenses can be made. We have studied the same carefully, and your Committee is unanimous in recommending that none of these suggestions can be acted upon without serious detriment to the school system. We have talked with many of this Board on the subject of school expense, and even those who are most outspoken in the demand that expenses be checked agree with us that it is not desirable to curtail the efficiency of the schools. The impression that has been given out that Newton Schools have only 23 and a fraction scholars in a class is not a full statement of the facts. There are only five high schools in Massachusetts having as large or larger classes as the Newton High School. It is however true that the expense for school is high and all will agree that there may come a time when the burden of increased expenditures may become such a detriment to the city in general and to the school department in particular that any further increases are unwise for the good of the schools.

"About a year ago the chairman of the Finance Committee allotted to the chairman of the Committee on Schools the duty of reporting a plan whereby the expense of Newton Schools could be regulated for the next five or ten years, by a regulated scale of increase. He found this a difficult proposition because of the abnormal conditions that have existed during the years of installation of the Technical High and the Vocational Schools. Having Dr. Spaulding's figures which show a continued decrease in cost per pupil we feel we can now offer a reasonable plan as a basis for appropriations for the next few years.

"The total expenditure for school years 1913-1914 are estimated at $366,171.03. "To get total Budget for fiscal year 1914 we must add For additional teachers and increase in salaries from Sept. to Dec. ... 3,061.97 Evening Schools ... 7,000.00 Summer Schools ... 1,000.00 Cash received from books and supplies sold ... 1,700.00

Receipts from State-actual to Dec. 1, 1913 ... $19,911.55 Reg. tuition non-residents ... 3,300.00 Vocational School non-residents ... 3,300.00 Evening School non-residents ... 750.00 Dog Tax ... 3,500.00 Books and Supplies ... 1,700.00 32,461.55

Net Appro. for 1914 ... $346,471.45 Net Appro. for 1913 ... $342,633.00

Increase $3,838.45 "Your Committee recommends that the School Budget be passed for the sum of $378,933.00, and that it be understood with the School Board and Superintendent of Schools that expenditure for the year 1914 be increased except on the basis of a pro rata increase for each kind of student based on cost per pupil for 1913 and 14. Your Committee finds this will approximate 2 per cent."

The following resolution was passed after an explanation by Alderman Jamieson:

Whereas we desire to formulate a policy to be pursued so far as possible in the treatment of school expenditures

Now Therefore Be It Resolved: that it is our belief that any increase in the present school appropriation should be granted in the year 1915-16 and 17 only on the basis of increases in the pupils in the schools. We believe this Board should estimate as nearly as possible the increased cost due to the increase in pupils in each dept., viz: high, vocational, technical, grades, kindergartens and evening schools, and compute the actual increase in appropriation on this basis. We believe this rule should be followed except where a less sum may be necessary on account of some unusual condition of the city treasury on the one hand or on the other hand where a greater sum may be necessary on account of some emergency in the school situation.

Alderman Jamieson said that Newton had an enthusiastic school superintendent, who desired to increase the school facilities and its efficiency. The committee had formulated the policy covered in the resolution after careful study and while it was not possible of course to commit future boards, it was a suggestion which, it was hoped, might be followed for at least three years.

There was also considerable debate on an order offered by Alderman Cabot requesting the mayor and solicitor to oppose the increase of passenger fares on the B. & A. Alderman Cabot said that this increase would undoubtedly tend to keep new residents from coming to Newton, and place us at a disadvantage with suburbs on the Maine and New Haven roads.

Alderman Cox said he hadn't heard any protest from his ward and he believed the Company must have a reason for advancing fares. He thought the success of the city itself depended on the success of its public service corporations.

Alderman Blanchard thought the board was not doing its duty by its citizens in allowing such a matter to slide by without protest.

Alderman Richardson said the citizens of Newton were not seriously affected, as most of us use the commuter cars. He suggested that to defeat the proposed increase might have some bearing on service.

Alderman Cabot stated that the company had given the matter but in different publicity and it was said to affect their revenues but little, being intended to place Newton stations on the same basis as other parts of the road.

Alderman Pratt offered an amendment that the mayor and solicitor should oppose the matter if the evidence warranted and altho Alderman Cox thought this was placing too much responsibility on the mayor, the amendment was adopted with 3 votes in opposition and the order was passed.

It was 10:40 o'clock when the 1914 budget was taken up. Opposition was expressed by Alderman Cox, Winslow and Richardson to a suggestion that the matter be considered in the committee of the whole, and it was not pressed.

Alderman Pratt went thru the budget as recommended by the Finance committee explaining the differences between the figures adopted last Nov. those recommended by the committee. The November figures were $1,469,880.12, the mayor recommended $1,422,996.45, and the committee suggested $1,474,915.45. The committee differed from the mayor on the matter of $104 increase in salaries of clerks in Treasury Dept., salary of the City Clerk, salary of Buildings Commissioner, salaries of police lieutenants, inspectors, sergeants, chauffeurs, an extra patrolman, appropriation for Motu work, salaries of school nurses, appropriation for school clocks, appropriation for special repairs to buildings, and salary of clerk in Water department.

After a short recess, the various items of the budget were taken up in detail. Alderman Bartlett favored increasing the salary of the Buildings Commissioner to $2250 as recommended by the Mayor. Alderman Murphy said that while the Commissioner had overruled his appropriation two years ago he had done better since. Alderman Pratt said that the Commissioner had exceeded his appropriation $4000 two years ago, and was some $1500 over the next year. He did not seem to be fully in accord with the policy of the committee and his estimates of appropriations last fall were valued.

Alderman Barker said the board was much dependent on heads of departments for information and should be paid a salary commensurate with the work done.

President Blakemore called attention to the fact that the present Commissioner found the office in chaotic state when he assumed office. The amendment was then adopted.

The item of $785 for an additional patrolman at Nonantum square was much involved with the recent reinstatement of officer Neagle, that the board debated the matter at length. Alderman Murphy said that this additional officer had been requested by the Business men of Newton and was most necessary. Alderman Jamieson said it ought not to be involved with the Neagle affair as the mayor was within his rights in that matter. Personally he believed that the man should be removed as his presence on the force weakens it every day. Alderman Blanchard said the matter should be considered from the standpoint of the entire personnel of the force. There is an officer at Nonantum square now, and the mayor says he will keep one there. To make this appropriation would virtually sanction the reinstatement of the other man and that the department was all upset on this account. The board would make a great mistake in making this appropriation until the other matter was settled. Alderman Pratt said the board had been liberal with this department in the past and we should go no further in adding to its expense. Alderman Murphy called attention to the fact that it was possible to place the man at Nonantum square because the other man had been reinstated. Alderman Jamieson said that Nonantum square ought not to have extra protection to the neglect of other parts of Newton.

Alderman Bartlett wanted to know if these two matters were connected as he had been consulted by Neagle and wanted to be excused if this matter was involved. Alderman Pratt thought the department was disrupted, was certainly expensive and it was the time to increase expenses. He felt that if additional amount was passed it would to a certain extent approve the reinstatement, and admitted that if the reinstatement affair had not come up just now, a different view might have been taken by the committee. Alderman Cox objected to personalities. The responsibility rests with the mayor and Nonantum square needs an officer. Alderman Rice thought this extra appropriation would be used to pay the reinstated man. Alderman Richardson thought that as the man had never been legally removed, the city would have to pay him, altho he believed the board could not emphasize its disapproval too strongly. Alderman Barker thought

THE FORGOTTEN MELODY

"The Forgotten Melody" the wonderfully realistic one-act playlet by Mr.
Edward F. Payne, will precede the performances of "David Garrick" at Players' Hall, West Newton, on the evenings of April 25th and 28th, which is being given under the auspices of the Newton Woman's Exchange. Mr.
Hubert Pierce, under whose direction the plays will be given, has been most fortunate in securing a most capable cast of talented amateurs and professional players, and a most enjoyable evening is looked forward to.

Mr. George Wellington, who was formerly with Mr. David Warfield in his great success, "The Music Master", has kindly consented to play the juvenile role in "The Forgotten Melody".
Mr. Wellington, it will be remembered, played the leading juvenile in the original "Little Miss Brown" production, and also an important part in Mr. Belasco's production of "Madame Butterfly".

Miss Bella Cairns, who was one of the most popular members of Mr. Gulesian's St. James Theatre Company, will also play in the curtain raiser with Mr. Pierce.

Miss Cairns is the daughter of Mr.
Hugh Cairns, the sculptor, and a very dear friend of Mrs. Gulesian, who is one of the patronesses for the Woman's Exchange.

PROTEST COWS

The board of health gave a largely attended hearing Monday afternoon at the City Hall, on the petition of Mrs.
Ida Grinspoon of Adams avenue, West Newton, to keep 6 additional cows.
Mrs. Grinspoon said she needed the permit in order to make a living and the petition was favored by Mr. Grin-spoon and Dr. F. M. Lowe. There were about 30 remonstrants present, remarks being made by Mr. John J.
Flynn, an attorney for 75 land owners in that vicinity, Alderman George M.
Cox and by Timothy Fahy, T. F. Gannon, J. J. Gannon, Miss Peeney, T. F.
Cronin and Miss Ryan. Mr. Flynn said the place was dirty, horses, he-nons being kept and old wagons allowed to stand in the yard. The manure pit was small, holding hardly two small loads, and it was spread over the surrounding land. Alderman Cox asked the board to rid the neighborhood of this nuisance, saying that property had deteriorated 50 per cent. since the cow stable was erected. Mr. Cox claimed that the recent addition to the barn was made illegally. The board subsequently refused to grant the petition.

EARLY MORNING FIRE

Three families, comprising eighteen persons, were driven from their beds early Tuesday by fire that damaged the house at 7 Washburn street, Nonantum. Mrs. Edmund LeBlanc was carried, with a two weeks' old infant, to safety by her husband, who also carried out three other children and aided Stella Merchant, a servant, and Fred Delorey, a lodger, in reaching safety. Delorey inhaled smoke, but soon recovered.

The LeBlanc family occupies the top floor of the house while Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cormier and three children live on the second floor, and Paul Wing, owner of the building, occupies the first floor with four members of his family. Mrs. LeBlanc awakened and thought someone was trying to steal the baby. She found the sound of the crackling of the flames and her husband, on investigating, found a closet under the eaves afire. He tried to fight it with pans of water but gave it up and closed the closet door while he awakened his household. The top of the house was burned off and the lower floors suffered water damage.
The loss was $2000.

TRAVEL CLASS

The travel class of the West Newton Woman's Educational Club, met with Mrs. Susan Dimond at Newton Highlands, on Thursday afternoon, April 2.
There were two papers read by Mrs.
Southwick and Mrs. Jordan. Mrs.
Southwick's paper on "Peshawur and the Khyber Pass" was very much appreciated by the class, for it was very evident that the writer had given much time and thought to it.

Mrs. Jordan had an equally interesting paper on "Ahmedabad", which was supplemented by a letter received within two months from a Hindu, resident in Calcutta and employed in the Geological Survey. His letter, written in Esperanto, had been translated into English and gave a brief sketch of Ahmedabad up to date.

The remaining period was devoted to discussion as to what the study should be for next year, and suggestions for the annual meeting, after which a social period was enjoyed.

NEW CHOIR IN NEWTONVILLE

Last Sunday, the members of the congregation of the Central Congregational Church on Walnut street were greatly interested in the first appearance of the new choir obtained by the recently appointed music committee.
With the assistance of Miss Lillian West, who has been the organist of the church for a number of years, the morning service received a new note in the bright and varied program.

The new choir consists of Mrs. Ethel Frank Brigham, soprano, who comes to the church with excellent training and experience, as her work in Boston is as an under study for a great number of operatic characters at the Boston Opera House. Miss Marguerite Harding, contralto, is the only member of the former choir who remains.
Mr. George Yates Kells, bass, is an excellent acquisition in the great auditorium, as his voice is lower than any which has been heard very recently, and in Mr. Edwin L. Gardner, the tenor voice in the choir will be strengthened, and under his direction the entire choir will work into a striking feature of the church service. Mr.
Gardner is in charge of the department of music at the Perkins Institute for the Blind, and is widely versed in church and concert work.

NEWTON CLUB NOTES

On Tuesday evening, April 7, a large audience gathered in spite of the rainstorm to hear William C. Bamburgh, a member of the executive committee of the club and advertising manager of the telephone company, deliver his new lecture on "Something About the Telephone." About one hundred views were shown on the screen, it being stated that one-half of them were shown for the first time, and particular interest was exhibited by the audience in what Mr. Bamburgh said about the wonderful work of the telephone company's employees in Worcester, in restoring service to the city of Worcester after the fire which put the exchange off the map.

ROOM

The public interest in the Free Reading Room of the Newton Christian Science Church has been such that the decision to open the room for two evenings a week will be welcomed by many.

Beginning next week it will be open Tuesday and Saturday evenings from 7.30 to 9. The room is located on the second floor of the Roberts Building, 297 Walnut street, Newtonville, and is also open afterwards from 2 to 6.

All Christian Science Churches afford facilities for the quiet study of the literature and teachings of the church, but the location of the room for this, is usually transferred from church edifice to some easily accessible place in the business section.

No effort is made at proselytizing, but questions regarding the movement are answered, and literature can be read or borrowed. Furnished in perfect taste, with an atmosphere of calm and restfulness, these rooms are intended to offer ideal conditions for getting the help that so often comes from a study of Christian Science with an open mind. Those who are interested in the quiet, dignified, helpful way in which the Christian Science Church reaches the public on week days are asked to visit its reading room.

BOSTON THEATRE—"In Old Kentucky" begins its last two weeks at the Boston Theatre, Monday, April 13.
Theatre patrons have testified in pa-petty audiences to the popularity of the attraction in the preceding two weeks. In addition to the bargain matinees that are given on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday and regular matinee on Saturday, holiday matinees will be given on Easter Monday, April 13, also on "Patriots' Day," Monday, April 20. On Friday night, April 17, the letter carriers of Boston will attend in a body as a testimonial to the popularity of Miss Maud Parker, who has the leading role of "Madge".

There is enough good drama in "In Old Kentucky" to equip a half-dozen modern, light-running dramas. There are thrills and big moments, an idyllic love story, wholesome fun and plenty of incidents in Mr. C. T. Dazy's play —and it has built up for itself a name and a fame in this country almost without parallel in the history of the American stage. The piece is staged at the Boston Theatre, on the same extensive and elaborate scale as has marked former presentations there.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Katharine Dodd, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Dodd, of Chestnut Hill, has just won the European fellowship, open to seniors at Bryn Mawr College. This fellowship is awarded annually to the member of the senior class who has had the highest average rank in her class since the beginning of the course at College. On entering Bryn Mawr Miss Dodd won the prize offered to students coming from New England, for the best entrance examination.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Miss Grace M. Burr, Editor.

The General Federation Magazine for April contains much of interest regarding the coming Chicago Biennial.
Among suggestions for the comfort of those attending is that of taking opera glasses on account of the immense space in the Auditorium Theatre. "All delegates cannot be placed in front rows. The acoustic properties of the building, however, are excellent and there is little doubt that any speaker with the ordinary carrying qualities of the voice will be heard."

The progress of the Endowment Fund is shown in this number. It totals $55,661.93. Nineteen states have completed their full quota, while Massachusetts is credited with over 80 per cent, still it has given the largest sum yet contributed by any one state.
More recent reports than that in the magazine indicate that the full quota is surely coming when all the pledges are paid.

Numerous quotations from members of department committees relative to the need of the fund are stated, but this perhaps is as pertinent as any:

"At present service in the General Federation means a liberal contribution of time and strength and money to do the work properly. This is gladly given, but in an organization of the dignity and importance of this great Federation it should not be required."

Local Announcements

lands, will observe Guest Day on April stone Club for the coming week inston, and a College Vaudeville and dance on the evening of Tuesday, April 14, at the clubhouse.

On Wednesday morning the subject of "Schools for Salesmanship" will be presented to the Social Science Club by Mr. A. E. Dodd of the North Bennet Street Industrial School.

The next meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will be the annual business meeting on April 16 and will take the form of a luncheon at the Brae-Burn Club. Mrs. Charles E.
Kelsey is in charge of the tickets.

The next regular meeting of the Newton Ladies Home Circle will be held on Thursday, April 16, at 2 P.
M., in G. A. R. Hall, Newtonville. The list of new officers and committees will be published next week.

Local Happenings

A musicale was given on Thursday, April 2nd, for the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Mrs. Maida A. Colwell sang, Miss Angela Morgan read and whistled very beautifully, and Mrs. E.
W. English played, being greeted as always by much applause.

At the meeting of the Newton Mothers' Club held at the home of Mrs.
Clifton H. Dwinell of Berkeley street, West Newton, Dr. L. M. F. Miner of the Massachusetts Dental College, gave a most interesting and helpful talk upon "Dentition." General discussion followed, and the afternoon closed with the usual social hour during which refreshments were served.

On Monday afternoon of this week the members of the Newton Highlands Monday Club listened to an address upon "International Peace" by Mrs.
Anna Sturgis Duryea at the home of Mrs. Charles Ogden. Mrs. C. H. Keeler read "Tubal Cain," by Charles Mackay, and Kipling's "Recessional." Mrs. H.
W. Kimball read "When the Cannon Booms," by Robert Carruth.

The meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. was held on Monday, with Miss Ayer of Forest street, current events being the subject of the afternoon. Miss Marian Dorr, who was in charge of the program, gave a comprehensive review of the whole situation in Mexico, illustrating her talk with a carefully prepared map.
The relations of the United States and Japan were presented by Mrs. Fred Hayward. Among other topics treated were the Federal Reserve Banks, the Repeal of Canal Tolls, and the Home Rule Bill. This departure from the regular program and giving up the entire afternoon to the consideration of current events was first tried last year and was found so profitable that it has been followed again this season.

Mrs. Archie C. Burnett was hostess and director of a most delightful musicale for the Waban Woman's Club last Monday afternoon. An interesting talk on the life and works of Georges Bizet was given by Miss Katharine Jones, who told in detail the story of L'Arlesienne. The talk was inter-persed with selections from that Opera, charmingly rendered by Mrs.

Hubbard, violinist, Mrs. Stewart, pianist, and Miss Le Palme, cellist. Miss Jones spoke also of Carmen, saying that the French public did not like it at first, and in fact, Bizet, too advanced for his time, was never appreciated during his life, his triumph not coming until several years after his death. Selections from Carmen were then splendidly rendered by Mrs. Lister, soprano, Madame Hemenway, contralto and Mr. Huddy, baritone, and these were followed by several other songs, all enthusiastically received by the members. The afternoon ended with a pleasant surprise in the shape of an invitation from Mrs. Burnett to a very delicious tea.

On Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Guild Mrs. Henry V. Jones, first vice-president was in the chair. The program opened with a violin solo by Miss Stella Carter accompanied by Mrs.
Haynes, Miss Mary Woolley, president of Mount Holyoke College, was then introduced as the speaker of the afternoon. Her subject was, "The Advantages of a Liberal Arts Education for Women." Miss Woolley began by saying that no country is as interested in the education of women as our own.
She referred to the many problems confronting educators today and the great need there is of trained women to help in solving them. The educational system is by no means a straight line from the kindergarten through the grades and secondary schools to the college, but rather a great circle. All life is the story of being influenced and then influencing.
Miss Woolley in clearing the way for her own point of view, granted the value of vocational training, said that the undergraduate college must not be confused with the university, that the college of liberal arts does not assume to be the only form of education nor is it best for every one. She chose

rather to point out the practical value of college training for the rank and file. It is justified, she said, in proportion as it makes a man or a woman a valuable member of society. Progress depends upon the mind behind the worker. We need the person who is able to think. The community needs mental training as well as vocational training. It needs keen minds, ready observation. She quoted the psychologists, who say that the necessity of thinking hard is digging channels in the brain for future success. The modern idea of the home maker is not merely that of the woman who prepares the meals for her family. She is the companion as well. And the relation to the home is not the only relation expected of the woman today. The relation to the community must also be taken into consideration. This is primarily a century of problems. To think a thing through is hard work, but it develops the deepest resources of the brain. There is a power that comes from struggling with that which is hard to do. The value of the study of mathematics was cited in this connection.

Besides these things which Miss Woolley claims as results of a college training she said that she hopes it also creates visionaries, the men and women who see visions. Nothing is needed more in this country today than the power to see visions. We need the study of the past as well as the study of the present in order to know how to meet the problems of the present. We need the philosopher and the seer. We need to get visions into the lives of the people around us in order to help to make more real the kingdom of God on the earth. The love of money, of power, of pleasure, of fashion, is everywhere present. We need lovers of books to offset this. She hopes the college training may create intelligent, cultivated women, with an occasional great scholar, that it may fit them for the whole of life and provide them with a fund of sources and resources.

"The Work of the Franklin Union" was presented to the members of the Social Science Club at the meeting on Wednesday morning by Mr. Walter B. Russell, the director of the Union. Benjamin Franklin in his will left a bequest of 1,000 pounds each, to the city of Boston and to the city of Philadelphia, to be left 100 years to accumulate. In 1890 when the Boston fund became available it had amounted to $400,000. The present home of the Union at the corner of Berkeley and Appleton streets was made possible through the generosity of Andrew Carnegie. This containing reading room, lecture hall and school, was opened in September, 1908. The aim of the Union is to further the education of day and night workers, to give instruction supplementary to the industries. The school is open from September to March and the courses cover from 2 months to 4 years. The students are for the most part men who wish to know more of the world that they may increase their pay, the majority of them being of American, Canadian or English birth. The average age is 25. The whole subject was presented in a forceful, interesting manner and many questions came from the audience at the close.

The Perian Club observed Gentlemen's Night on Thursday evening of last week, when 33 members and their guests sat down to dinner at the Petee Inn. The tables were tastefully decorated with yellow and green suggestive of the Easter season. After dinner Mrs. C. Frederick Rogers, Jr., president of the club, acted as toastmistress and several of the gentlemen responded to appropriate toasts. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Alton E. Briggs, who told "Some Facts about the Food We Eat." The whole was a very enjoyable affair.

On Wednesday afternoon of this week Mrs. Ryder was hostess for the club for its meeting. Mrs. H. E. Childs presented a paper upon "The Pan-American Union."

it a great mistake to have such a man on the force as it gave the police department a bad name, but we should express our disapproval in a dignified way. Alderman Blanchard said the board was responsible for the money appropriated and all these matters should be considered. Charges have already been preferred against this man by one member of the board. The motion to add the item of $765 for an extra patrolman was favored by a vote of 10 to 6 but failed to pass as 11 votes were necessary.

The appropriation for resurfacing streets was also a storm centre. Alderman Cox said that the board had no right to designate the streets to be resurfaced and said it was not in accordance with our new system of accounting. Alderman Forknall said the committee had spent a lot of time on the streets and the designations had been made without reference to any section of the city. He thought there should be some money left for emergencies as there were many side streets which ought to be fixed up, as well as the thoroughfares of the city. He suggested the elimination of Beacon street, Waban, and Centre street at Newton.

Alderman Richardson said the figure of 65 cents per square yard on which the amounts had been reached could not be relied upon and in fact was much larger than the average of work done in 1913, which was from 40 to 45 cents. If we waited for actual estimates, there would probably be at least $10,000 left for work on side streets. There is also $700, he said, which could be used from the Maintenance fund of $45,000. Alderman Murphy questioned the right of the board to subdivide the item of $45,000, and after some deliberation, President Blakemore ruled that the board must make such items by designating the amounts against each street, as suggested by the Public Works committee but not recommended by the Finance committee. This was done and Alderman Forknall then pressed his amendment. Alderman Richardson thought that if any amendment was made it would open up the whole list of streets in the city and that the Public Works Committee had given the matter the most careful consideration. The amendment was then lost and the item of $45,000 in designated streets was approved. The list includes Washington street, from West Newton to Woodland, $9,350; Beacon street, from Boston line to near Hammond street, and from Glen avenue to Centre street, $10,375; Beacon street, at Waban, $6855; Boylston street from Walnut street to Dudley road, $5830; Watertown street from Albemarle road to West Newton, $8800 and Centre street from railroad bridge to Mt. Ida street, $3990.

While President Blakemore was looking up the point of order raised by Alderman Murphy the board took up the salary of the Street Commissioner. Alderman Pratt saying that as Mr. Ross was to resign on April 15, and as the salary of $4000 was fixed for him, he believed the board should make only a nominal appropriation, as the board did not know whether a $2000 or a $6000 man should take his place. Alderman Murphy said the salary was carefully considered and the office was large enough for a $4000 man. The mayor should be given this amount in filling the office. Alderman Cox said the appropriation should only cover Mr. Ross's time to April 15. Alderman Murphy became quite indignant saying that if we were to get the best results we should give the mayor the $4000. Alderman Cabot thought the salary of the new man should be left until a later day. Alderman Murphy wanted to make a charter objection to the item but President Blakemore ruled that the charter objection must apply to the whole order and not to one item in it. An amendment to make the salary of the street commissioner $1166.67 until April 15, was then adopted.

Comptroller Daboll at the request of the President, then informed the board that if many things could be assumed as he stated them we would have a net city levy of $1,522,000, and a tax rate of $17.91 per thousand.

The budget carrying a total amount of $1,472,332.15 was then adopted and the board at 1:40 A. M. adjourned until April 27 when a public hearing will be held on the matter of granting permits to transport intoxicating liquors.

DON'T BE A CRAB

Boost and the world boosts with you, Knock and you're on the shelf,
For the world gets sick of one who'll kick,
And wishes he'd kick himself.

Boost and the world boosts with you,
Boost when it starts to rain, If you happen to fall don't lie there and bawl,
But get up and boost again.

Boost for your own advancement, Boost for the things sublime,
For the chap that's found on the top-most round, Is a booster every time.

EFFICIENCY TALK

The third of the Efficiency Talks by H. Whitehead, was given last Monday at the Newton Y. M. C. A. His subject was "The Man in the Mirror", and the talk was voted the best of the series so far.

Mr. Whitehead said in part:—"The success of an individual is only equal to his applied abilities. It behooves the young man anxious to leave his mark behind him to study himself carefully and see if he has the necessary traits for his chosen calling. Should these traits be only partially successful.

"If we wish to understand an automobile let us say, we must know each part of it and also how each part operates in conjunction with all the other parts. If an automobile should break down or run poorly we know that some part of it is not working properly. We do not stand off from the machine and look at it as a whole to find what is wrong, but we try to locate the specific part of the car that is causing the trouble and having located it, we repair or replace just that part only. Get that one part strengthened and the whole car runs again.

"In developing the human machine we must use just the same method. We cannot take ourselves as a whole to find out why we are not doing better work, but must take ourselves to pieces and locate the trait or traits which need strengthening, which need 'repairing'."

Mr. Whitehead then gave an interesting method of self analysis. He divided the "human machine" into forty-one parts and showed how by qualitative analysis to locate the "weak parts in the machine."

Methods of developing the different traits were given in so simple and lucid a manner that the question of how to build or strengthen weak traits, was answered for many young men present. Next Monday the talk will be on "The Rules of the Game", when the principles of business efficiency will be taken up. This talk will be of interest to all business men as well as to the beginners, and all who have business problems should attend. The question period at the end of each session permits all to obtain help on their own business questions and problems.

MY LENT

Not flesh denied, not pleasure dimmed Not saddened mien nor dismal dream Not fastings long be mine, to show My vision of my Lord's distress.

The haughty Pharisee, the scribe Sufficient with his sense of lore, The weak disciples who forsook, The cruel crowd with angry roar,
All these I would recall, and yet Be glad He met their hate and scorn, With calm unmoved, with faith unstirred, When scourged with lash, and crowned with thorn.

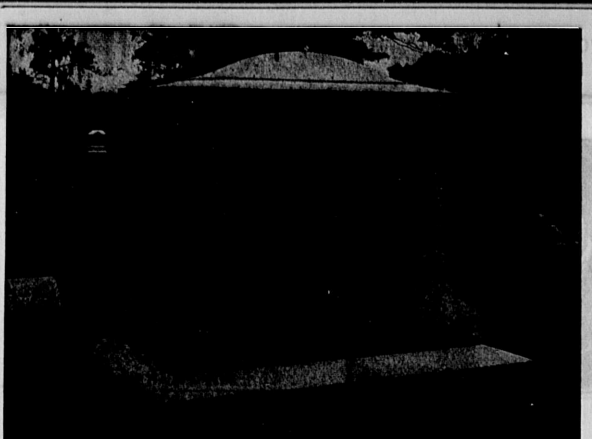

Be mine to patient bear my cross!
Be mine to love without return!
Be mine to sow, tho' not to reap—
To worship where His altars burn.

Longing some task for Him to do, Some way to help; with this content, Some faintest trace of Him to show, I ask no more; be this My Lent.
M. D. Wiswell.

N. H. S. FENCING CLUB
The Fencing Club is full of live material and the team to be pitted against the Tufts team, Friday, April 17th, consists of Herman, Hayden, Clark, Williams, Hains, and Speare. This squad also leaves a lot of good material for the formation of a second team which (it is hoped) will meet the Harvard Freshmen at some later date. Arrangements for such a meet are under way as well as the hopes for the first team meeting Bowdoin if satisfactory agreements can be made. The star man of the fencing club is Olney Herman, who has won nine straight bouts, coming up from the thirteenth position to first. Last Friday the six likely candidates for the team were invited by Captain Damen of Harvard, to fence with his men, and Clark, Hayden, Herman and Speare accepted.

The standing of to-day is as follows:

BOUITS

1. Herman	9	60-41

DISCUSS TAXATION

Progressives of Newton Hear Advocates of the Single Tax

At a meeting of the Progressive party held in Odd Fellows' hall, Newtonville, Wednesday evening, an interesting discussion took place on the matter of taxation.

Mr. Norman Marshall, chairman of the Progressive city committee, called to order and alluded to the fact that that party favored fair and just taxes, were against special privileges in taxation as well as in other things and was no more afraid to attack long standing evils and customs than were the Republicans of 1861 led by Garrison, Phillips and Sumner.

Mr. William Lloyd Garrison, Jr. of West Newton was the chairman of the evening. Mr. Garrison said in part what is included in his more extended address on Taxation which is printed in full in another part of this issue.

Mr. Henry D. Nunn, vice president of the Mass. Single Tax League, spoke in part as follows:—

"For the most part, the leaders have resisted the temptation to carry the tax question into politics, yielding only where there was a reasonable chance for success, or where political activity seemed best for educational purposes. In spite of the self restraint of the movement, it has gained political recognition all over the world in the past ten years, and the principle of land value taxation as laid down by Henry George, has profoundly affected the revenue policy of Great Britain, Germany, New Zealand, the provinces of the Canadian Northwest, and some of the countries of South America."

The principle once established, the increase of the public's participation will follow as a matter of course. The great dual land monopolists of England have already seen the handwriting on the wall. Land speculation has already been considerably checked and great estates are in the market. Most of you noticed the press dispatches last December announcing the sale of one of the Duke of Bedford's estates, nineteen acres in the heart of old London, for $50,000,000, a transaction without a precedent in the annals of the House of Bedford.

Single Tax in anything like complete form, is, of course, not realizable in a city or even in a state, but to be fully applied all revenues, national, state, county and municipal, would have to be raised by the taxation of land values exclusively, and not only that, but the principle fully applied, would call for the rapid reduction of existing public debts and the entire cessation of public borrowing in the future to finance permanent improvements.

"As far as the workers in the movement are able to judge from the limited experience of the past twenty years, the most practicable approach to the Single Tax is through local option or home rule in taxation, whereby individual communities may experiment as Vancouver has done and as Pittsburgh is doing, by gradually shifting taxation from buildings and improvements and from industry and enterprise, to land values. If cities and towns had the power under our Massachusetts Constitution to follow the example of Pittsburgh, it is more than probable that several cities where the present situation is almost unbearable, would very soon try the experiment of gradually exempting personal property, buildings and machinery from taxation. Our cities should be free to work out their own economic salvation in accordance with their own conditions and the judgment of their own citizens, instead of being restricted by regulations made by men who never saw a steam engine, a dynamo, a railroad, a steam boat, a sewing machine or a printing press, and who never dreamed of the telegraph, telephone, radiograph and other revolutionary inventions, which have so radically affected social, industrial and economic conditions, that taxation ideas of 200 years ago can not possibly meet present day requirements, any more than the machinery of colonial times could supply the needs of the people today."

Mr. R. B. Capon, ex-vice-president of the Massachusetts Single Tax League, dealt with the inquiry, "What is the correct measure of Government Service?"

He stated the necessity for government made taxation necessary. To collect revenue it was important that a correct basis be adopted. Single Taxers claimed the just and practical basis was the taxation of land values only, all improvements to be exempted. "Single Tax" was the nickname for this system.

History was largely made up of records of disputes concerning taxation. The varieties of ways of raising revenue were numerous and curious, and bred innumerable evils. Standards of measurement satisfactory to all had been reached, or invented by the corporations serving the public today, such as gas, water, telephone, light, power, telegraph, railroad, coal, ice, and express companies. Among industrial corporations satisfactory standards of exchange had been reached that made correct book-keeping possible, and satisfied all claimants, but in the case of government service, neither civic, state, nor federal government could be truthfully said to be able to render a true and correct invoice to the taxpayer for the money he had to pay. Instead of collecting for what government did the rule was to take his property because the individual had it, or because the individual did something. If he got drunk once he was fined once. If he built a chicken house once he was fined every year after, so long as that chicken house was doing business.

Single Taxers claimed the missing link in political economy had been found by Henry George in the taxation of land values.

Government was the product of the community. With government organized and at work, individuals produced wealth of labor values. The community at the same time proceeded to produce Land Value. The shoe manufacturer paid his help out of the product of the factory—the shoes. Single Tax men argued the government factory produced land value therefore should pay itself out of its own product, and let the individual product go free.

None knew better how to measure government service than our real estate men. They could prove for us that the development of land values always accompanied, and was caused by the development and maintenance of government service, beginning with the title deed, which gave the individual the right of private possession, until where government service was the most perfect, bare land formerly worth a few cents per acre, had a value of thirty to forty million dollars per acre.

Wherever the transfer of taxation from improvement to land values had been made a new era of prosperity had set in. It was a business method that worked in the theatre, the hotel, and the exhibition, and if it worked well in such cases, why would it not work well in the taxation of the community. Land Value was the correct measure of government service.

ANNUAL SENIOR PLAY

LOVING CUP

Presented To Street Commissioner Ross By City Hall Associates

Street Commissioner Charles W. Ross was completely surprised late Wednesday afternoon, by a summons to "see a man" in the aldermanic chamber at City Hall, and found all the city officials and clerks gathered there to show him their regard and affection by the gift of a handsome silver loving cup, a signed memorial and a beautiful bouquet of flowers. The presentation was made by City Solicitor Slocum in a most happy manner and Mr. Ross was so overcome that it was several moments before he was able to reply.

The cup is inscribed as follows:— Charles W. Ross from his Associates at City Hall Newton
April 15, 1914.

The memorial, which was beautifully done in pen and ink by Mr. Ernest W. Harvey, is signed by 63 officials and clerks.

After the presentation, Mr. Ross held an informal reception.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

The April meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Board of Trade hall at Newtonville, with President Fred A. Hubbard in the chair, and a large attendance of members.

President Hubbard reported that the Nonantum square proposition was now being considered by the Planning Commission and suggestions had been made to widen the square on the south side by taking the French property, to construct an arcade from the post office to Jefferson street and to remove the M. & B. Street Railway cars from the centre of the square.

Reports were also received from the committee on matter of increased fares on the B. & A., substantially as printed in last week's GRAPHIC, and from the Credit committee, a form of letter giving 30 days notice to delinquent debtors being approved.

An interesting debate followed on the matter of local advertising but without definite action being taken.

After the business meeting the Newtonville Glee Club, under the leadership of Mr. Walter H. Stevens, gave an excellent program of vocal and instrumental music, with a solo by Norman Hyslop.

FUNERAL OF MR. BLACKMAN

The funeral of Mr. Alfred H. Blackman, who passed away Friday at Waltham, took place Sunday afternoon at his late residence on Appleton street. Rev. F. E. Webster, rector of Christ Church, Waltham, conducted an impressive service at 1.30 o'clock.

There was a large attendance of relatives and friends, including many from Newton, and the employees of the Waltham Coal Company, of which he was vice-president, attended in a body.

The floral tributes were many and very beautiful, the casket being literally banked with elaborate designs. The burial was in the family lot in Mt. Peake Cemetery, Waltham.

Mr. Blackman is survived by a widow.

BRIDGE PARTY

Society was well represented at the bridge party given last week on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Frederick Luther Felton, at her residence on Chestnut street, West Newton.

The occasion was complimentary to her daughter, Mrs. Archibald Rice of Waterbury, Conn. Twelve tables were arranged in the drawing-room and the game was auction bridge.

Mrs. Howell won the first prize. In the dining-room, where refreshments were served, the table was beautifully decorated in a color scheme of yellow and blue, with marguerites and bachelor's buttons arranged in effective combination.

MASQUERADE

Brilliant Affair At the Brae Burn Country Club

The climax has been reached and it is doubtful if any more pronounced ball-room success is scored this season, than the Masquerade party given Monday evening, at the Brae-Burn Club, by Mr. and Mrs. James Gardiner White, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hubbard of Newton Centre.

It was one of the largest and best affairs of the season at Brae-Burn, and 80 guests prominent in the society of Boston, Brookline and the Newtons, arrayed in costumes representing the Mexican, Spanish, Turkish, French and Italian types, danced the hours away to the strains of Russell's Orchestra. The gowns worn by the ladies were very handsome and as the dancers glided gracefully around the brilliantly lighted hall, the effect was truly beautiful. Never did a party at Brae-Burn go off more smoothly, and never was one more enjoyable.

Among the especially handsome costumes was that worn by Mrs. Harold D. Corey, who represented "Carmen", and looked very beautiful in an exquisite Spanish gown of yellow silk which she had bought in South America. Mrs. Morton E. Cobb, as "Night", was charming, in a very rich and elaborate gown of black satin with spangles of golden stars, and an effective head dress lighted by electricity.

Mrs. George Walker, as "Lady Teasdale", was altogether "stunning" in a beautiful creation of white silk figured with pink roses and wore a large black picture hat trimmed with pink tulle.

Miss Forestall of Brookline was very fascinating as a demure little Quakeress, gowned in gray, with a Quaker bonnet covering her pretty, fluffy curls.

Mrs. William B. Merrill and Mrs. Jerome Smith both wore very fetching Dolly Parton costumes, and Mrs. Edwin Bowen, represented "Polly", and was attractively attired in red and black. Mrs. Allen Hubbard wore a charming figure in a "Pierette" costume of black and white, with bodice of black satin, and wore a black and white pointed hat.

Mrs. George Huntress, in the role of a young girl, looked very sweet in a dainty gown of pale blue, and Mrs. Norman Pratt danced gracefully as a "Flower Girl", in a pretty gown of white and green with large picture hat.

Mrs. George Crampton was extremely attractive in an Italian costume of green decked with jewels, and Mrs. Edward Stratton wore a dark Spanish costume of velvet, with diamonds.

Mrs. James Gardiner White was a very pretty and graceful dancer attractively attired in a quaint Turkish costume, with yellow trousers and green coat and wore a long ecrú veil.

The Misses Lucy and Helen Cobb as "French Soubrettes", were beautifully gowned in pale blue silk and moire, and wore dainty lace caps trimmed with pink roses.

Mrs. Charles Sawin and Mrs. Hallett were in Turkish costume, and Mrs. Prescott Warren was very attractive in a Spanish costume.

Mr. Harold D. Corey enjoyed the dance in the role of a "Chinese Mandarin", and wore a gorgeous Oriental costume which he had purchased abroad.

Mr. George Huntress, as "Uncle Sam", was a striking figure in red, white and blue, and Colonel Cobb danced divinely, as a "Salor Lad", in the regulation costume, white trousers, Middy blouse and white cap, which was very becoming. Mr. Frank H. Stewart was an extremely good imitation of a "Rooster", decked in yellow plumage, and donned a rooster's comb.

GOOD WORK

Notable Musical Services At St. Paul's Newton Highlands

Three exceptional services, all attended by record congregations brought the Church years at St. Paul's, Newton Highlands, to a climax the past week, and still further advanced the reputation of that Parish as the leading one of its size in energetic and successful accomplishments, within the diocese.

On Good Friday night the vested choir augmented to 45 voices and assisted by Mr. A. J. Fairbanks of the Tremont Temple as organist and four of the leading soloists of Greater Boston—Mme. Wilhelmina Calvert, soprano, Miss Alice Reese, contralto, Mr. Ralph L. Harlow, tenor and Mr. Frederick L. Huddy, basso cantate, gave a well nigh perfect rendition of Maunders' "Olivet to Calvary" before a large audience. Throughout, the singing of both soloists and chorus was of the highest order and earned glowing encomiums. The two former Newton singers, Miss Reese of the Highlands and Mr. Harlow of Waban in particular, sang with a beauty of tone production and finished excellence of style which marked them as already on a par with the leading voices of Boston and the two more famous singers were also in excellent voice which speaks for itself. Mr. Russell, the regular organist, was at the piano-forte and Mr. Robinson directed with his usual success.

On Easter morning, another overflow congregation which again necessitated the use of the Choir room, took part in an impressive and beautiful musical service, the choir of 35 being assisted by piano and violin, and at four o'clock the Sunday School vestal choir, again filled the quaint edifice to its capacity.

During the past year the school has grown from 120 to 170 pupils and more than 200 plants were given away at this service. In addition the annual rewards of merit for perfect attendance over varying periods were given out and this year three special rewards for remarkable attendance were bestowed, Master Alfred Haigh receiving a watch as a mark of appreciation of his record of ten and a half years perfect attendance at service and Sunday School, a record made more remarkable by the fact that he lives in the Upper Falls, and other rewards were given to Miss Edith Dawson and Master Kenneth Dow, whose records were for over nine and six years respectively.

AGAINST PONY EXPRESS LICENSES

License Committee Gives a Hearing To Many Prominent Residents On This Question

A semi-public hearing was given last Friday night at City Hall to persons interested in the matter of refusing to grant permits to expressmen to transport intoxicating liquors into Newton. The hearing was given by the committee on Licenses, in order that that committee might prepare its report before the public hearing to be given before the entire board of aldermen on April 27th.

This hearing also followed a hearing given the previous night to all the petitioners for these permits.

Alderman Rice presided and all the committee were present except Alderman Wagner, who is in the South. Mr. Thomas Weston, Jr., represented the petitioners and introduced the various speakers. Mr. H. W. Bascom, secretary of the Newton Civic Club, said that the splendid No license vote of the city was practically nullified by the large amount of liquors brought into Newton by the expressmen and urged the committee to take drastic action. Mr. Allan C. Emery, president of the Y. M. C. A., said that it was too bad that such a system had grown up, which when interfered with, would affect business prosperity, but if the system was wrong it ought to be eradicated. The bringing of liquors into Newton handicapped the work for moral reform, and it was evident that these permits, making it easy to get liquor, was damaging to social life, wrecking homes, making drunks and doing injury to children. In behalf of the young men, the poor families, and for the benefit of the community, Mr. Emery urged that the permits be refused.

Mrs. Clara E. Birdsall, president of the Newton Civic Council, said that this organization was a body of men and women who worked together for civic righteousness. She said that the worst had no way out when the man drank and that we should make it as hard as possible for the man to drink. Mr. Herbert E. Locke said the board took right action last year in refusing the druggists licenses and that this evil was 25 to 30 times as great as the one settled in 1913. He was amazed at the quantity of liquors brought into the city and figured that it would make between 4000 and 5000 barrels and would fill from 26 to 30 freight cars. How would you like to see such a train pass thru Newton placarded with the statement that this amount of liquor was consumed in this city. He insisted that the present method was virtually 26 saloons on wheels.

He called attention to the figures showing that $2,000 gallons went into Nonantum, 25,000 to Newton Centre, 30,000 to West Newton and 14,000 to Upper Falls, or 77 per cent of the total amount in villages where the working classes lived. In Upper Falls 321 barrels of liquor were consumed, and on Saturday nights the express teams were loaded to go on with the stuff. To call Newton a temperance city under these conditions was a farce, and it was a business for the benefit of Boston, and only incidental to our expressmen.

Mrs. A. M. Russell said that the Newton Associated Charities opposed the granting of these permits. Mr. F. J. Gans said he came to Newton because he believed it to be a No license place, and asked if granting these permits carried out the No license vote. He believed a large part of the 200,000 gallons would be kept out if permits were refused, as liquor could come in now altogether too easily. He thought our expressmen were in two classes, those who formented the liquor business by soliciting the trade in the poorer districts, and those who acted simply as common carriers. The board couldn't discriminate between them, as they are in a business directly opposed to the No license vote of the city. He thought that if liquor was not bought, the money would be used for other purposes more beneficial to the community.

Mrs. S. L. Eaton, for the Newton W. C. T. U., speaking for mothers of the city, asked the committee not to put this stain on Newton.

Mr. Charles D. Kepner asked the board to try the experiment and see if liquors would come in if permits were refused. The board should feel that the citizens were back of them in this movement and should make it as hard as possible to get liquor. Mr. Kepner suggested that if the laboring classes used this liquor, they were unable to give us the full value of their wages. He also somewhat facetiously suggested that if the expressmen made a profit of $2000 a year by this business it would be far better for the city to pay them a pension of that amount, considering increased efficiency and amounts paid for charities.

Mr. John A. Gardner said that all good work goes a step at a time and urged the board to refuse this saloon on wheels which defeats the will of the people. The expressmen say that they are the taxpayers, we are taxpayers also. Test the matter for one year and refuse these permits.

Prof. W. K. Lewis was convinced that public sentiment in his own neighborhood was in favor of refusing these permits. As a former resident of the South, he stated that the prohibition movement there was due as much to the poorer whites as to the negro element. County prohibition there, he said, was reinforced by eliminating the express business and as a public policy, was highly desirable.

Mrs. B. E. Taylor, for the Newton Federation of Women's clubs, said that if the board refused the pathetic results of this liquor among women and children who drink, it would be sufficient to stop this traffic.

Mr. John Y. Mainland called attention to the growth of the movement by railroads and other large corporations not to employ men who drink, and from an economic as well as a moral view point you should refuse these permits.

Mr. E. L. Miller said that questions of personal privileges are exploded in issues like this. This liquor business flows upon us and intrenches upon our rights, and it was most proper to refuse the permits.

Mr. F. S. Retan referred to the arguments made the night previous and said that the expressmen contradicted themselves, were illogical and decided that they were taxpayers, had families to support, were met by the facts that the present petitioners were also taxpayers and had families to support. The argument that the liquor permits were needed because the parcel post was affecting the express business was most illogical. He asked if the statement that "Natick would meet Brighton" was a threat on the part of the expressmen or a defiance of the authority of the board. He saw no basis for the assertion that the No license vote would be cut in half if these permits were refused, or that had the laboring classes would remove from the city. He believed that the board had no moral right to give these men such permits and that the weak, untrained and unrestrained in our city must be protected.

Mr. Norman Marshall said that liquor would be brought into Newton even if permits were refused, but it would be a great step in advance if the city did not go into partnership with the liquor business.

Mr. Harry L. Jones said that all the churches in Newton Centre were opposed to these permits and that before the public hearing, fuller results would be reported. He read a letter from Lynn showing that liquor had been kept out of that city when the permits had been refused. He believed that the Newton expressmen were running at 100 per cent. efficiency and there was no effect from police restrictions. He charged that kitchen barrooms were being maintained today in Newton and that the police had the names of these consigners where this liquor was taken and did nothing. He asked if the police department was giving full value for its cost of $100,000 per year, and believed that the citizens had a right to ask it to interfere with lawbreakers. We won't worry over what will happen if these permits are refused.

It is a bit difficult to follow the reasons for presenting the various expressmen in this city as the leading advocates of granting permits to transport liquors, and some of the best people in the community as opponents to that action. The expressmen are not the representatives of the sentiment in this community in favor of a continuance of the present policy.
We might as well say that the expressmen represent our ideas in furniture, just because they bring it to us from Boston. The expressmen in this matter are our servants, not our advocates, and to suggest even, that their position in this matter, based entirely on the revenue derived from such transportation, is that of the city in general, is far from the truth.

The one fact which should be kept clearly in mind is not that expressmen are taxpayers, or that the opponents to permits, are taxpayers, but whether the abolition of these permits will be more beneficial to all the people, than the present policy in regard to the use of liquor. Even the most active opponent to the pony express, admits that liquor will continue to come into the city and offers no plan whereby it can be controlled and directed. It is for the city government to decide whether the liquor brought to Newton can be brought in under strict supervision of our police, or whether it shall be brought in by Tom, Dick or Harry, with a waste of much energy and time in order to learn where even a portion of it has gone and by whom it is consumed. Personally it is my opinion that a limited number of permits be granted this year, that a strong movement be made at the next Legislature to obtain some restriction on the promiscuous transportation of liquors into No. license communities, and then, with that leak wholly stopped, make a cleanup of conditions in our own community.

The apparent refusal of the aldermen to accept the provisions of the Sunday opening law, recommended by the License committee, seems incomprehensible to the average citizen.
The board hesitates to accept this act because they fear that pressure will be brought to bear upon them to grant more of these licenses than they believe should be issued. It will blaze the way to a "wide open Sunday" as the unfortunate aldermen could not "discriminate" and must grant the petition of every "reputable" fruit dealer in the city. This may be convincing to some, but is rather childish to men who know that the Lord constantly exercises his rights to "discriminate" and that a "wide open Sunday" in Newton exists only in imagination.

The committee recommends that this act be accepted in order that certain places in the city may be opened on Sundays for the purposes of accommodating patrons of our street railways. At present these places are granted licenses as Common Victuallers under a most extreme view of the law authorizing the granting of such licenses, as none of these places would supply "food to strangers and travelers" in the ordinary meaning of the phrase. The granting of Common Victuallers licenses to these places is an absolute farce, and entirely below the dignity of the city of Newton. The Sunday opening act should be accepted and the aldermen should have sufficient courage to refuse to grant licenses to a few Italian and Greek fruit dealers, who might petition under the new conditions.

The action of the aldermen in passing the Washington street conduit order over the mayor's veto is still open to criticism, even with the circumstances as stated by Alderman Rice.
While the Edison Company has acted in good faith in the matter and Washington street was resurfaced last year, after Mayor Hatfield had been duly notified and had agreed to the conduit work in that street, the fact still remains that it is poor business policy to resurface streets and then allow them to be torn up for any purpose whatever. Edison conduits could have been laid this year in either Centre street or Watertown street, instead of in Washington street, and would have been in both instances, extensions of existing conduit locations. The argument that the street could be resurfaced after the laying of the conduit in as good condition as before is most fallacious and plenty of places could be pointed out in this city where conduit locations are still noticeable, even after the most thorough work of the Street department. Washington street, with its long grade to the north, will surely show the effects of building a conduit within ten feet of the sidewalk line. Mayor Childs' veto should have been sustained, and the policy which he outlined should have been endorsed.

The question of a new street commissioner to succeed Mr. Ross, is being discussed with considerable interest in those quarters where the importance of the office is fully realized.
An official having charge of expenditures aggregating a quarter of a million dollars ought to be selected with great care and judgment.
If any person connected with the city or residing here is to be considered for the office, no better selection could be made than the promotion of the present Deputy Commissioner, Mr.
George E. Stuart. Mr. Stuart has a great advantage in experience in the work of the department, in knowing the city thoroughly and in handling men.
A suggestion that the engineering and street departments be consolidated with an experienced engineer and road builder at the head, is meeting with some favor and may be worth more extended consideration from the mayor and board of aldermen, but if present conditions are to continue Mr.
Stuart should receive the appointment.

No wonder there is a feeling in the country that there is altogether too much technicality in the administration of alleged justice by our judiciary.
The average citizen cannot see why Harry Thaw should not be returned to New York by the most direct route, Judge Aldrich to the contrary notwithstanding. It is such rulings as that of Judge Aldrich which fosters the proposition to recall judges and judicial decisions.

The present administration allowed the deaths of several Americans in Mexico to pass without taking definite action, but when two sailors are taken from a boat, the flag is insulted and warships hustled to the scene at once.
An arrested sailor is evidently more important to President Wilson than a dead American.

The action of the Boston Elevated officials, as the result of a recent hint in the Graphic, in ordering the Cambridge cars to wait for passengers in the wider part of Nonantum square, is a step in the right direction and already relieves the congestion formerly noted near the post office.

Attention is called to the interesting article printed in this issue by Mr.
William L. Garrison, Jr., of West Newton on the subject of Taxation. Mr.
Garrison has some pertinent ideas on this subject which is now so promi-nently before the public.

The gift of a loving cup to Street Commissioner Ross on his retirement from office, testifies to the feeling of goodwill which is generally felt for that genial official.

The late Governor Eben S. Draper was a real governor of this old Commonwealth and a man of whom every citizen of Massachusetts should be proud.

Newton is receiving considerable undesirable and undeserved notoriety from the publication in the Boston papers of the apparent large quantities of liquors received in this city. The conditions in other communities, if the facts were known and published, would show that Newton is not alone in this respect, and it would be interesting to hear the official figures from Brookline, Somerville and Cambridge on these lines.

The Boston Herald prints the following effusion:

The following notice appeared in the NEWTON GRAPHIC for April 3:
"At the meeting this evening in Eliot Church, an Easter topic, 'What Comfort Have You Found in Bereavement?' will be considered. Action will be taken relative to the granting of Express Licenses this year." The implication needs no comment; is it a confession of a subconscious mind? If so, it is of scientific significance. If it is a purely accidental connotation it is a peculiarly unfortunate one.

DEATH OF MR. RICHARDSON

Mr. Charles M. Richardson, a resident of Auburndale for about four years died suddenly in Winchester on Monday afternoon, from heart trouble, following a run to the railroad station in an ineffectual attempt to get a train to Boston. Mr. Richardson was for many years, an engineer on the B. & A., retiring a few months ago on account of poor health. He had recently purchased the Winchester News Company, in which he was to be associated with his son. Mr. Richardson was 47 years of age and a native of South Boston. He was a member of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and of Masonic and Odd Fellows lodges in South Boston. He is survived by a widow, two sons, Walter and Allen Richardson and one daughter, Emma Richardson. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at his late home on Central street, Auburndale, and were attended by many friends and large delegations from the organizations of which he was a member. Rev. Dr. W. C. Gordon of the Congregational Church officiated and the floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. The interment was in the Newton Cemetery.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

The repeal of the bar and bottle bill was defeated in the House on Tuesday, by a vote of 105 to 115, all three Newton representatives voting with the majority. On Wednesday, reconsideration of the vote on Tuesday was refused, the vote standing 101 to 114.
On Monday, all three representatives voted in the negative, and with the majority each time on three roll calls, an unusually large number for one session. Reconsideration of the rejection of the bill allowing state employees a vacation, resolutions relative to national ownership of telephone and telegraph lines, and establishing the salary of the secretary of the commonwealth, were the matters under consideration.
Bills recommended by the Commission on Immigration, of which Dr. F.
E. Spaulding of Newtonville, was a member, were heard this week on Beacon hill. Dr. Spaulding was one of the advocates of a bill to give the State board of Education supervisory power over private schools, and for the establishment of part time and evening schools. Dr. Spaulding said that the Commission proposes that in every town where there are as many as twenty illiterates between fourteen and seventeen years, there shall be maintained a part-time school for them, and that in every town where there are as many as fifteen illiterates between seventeen and twenty-one years old, there shall be maintained evening schools for them with sessions of at least forty weeks. As a rule, under present laws, the evening schools give about as much instruction in a year as is given in four or five weeks of day schools.
He estimated that the cost of this proposed system would be about $1,000,000 for the State, and it would entail an additional expense to the cities and towns of about $1,000,000.
The matter of creating a status for General Butler was favored by the House on Wednesday, when by a vote of 38 to 63, an adverse report of the committee was refused and a bill substituted therefor appropriating $25,000 for the same. The course of this bill thru the House and Senate promises to be rather rocky.
The Boston Globe has the following comment in the recent nomination of Mr. Frank J. Hale:
"Gov. Walsh continues to demonstrate his ability to select the right man for the place in the appointment of Frank J. Hale of Newton to the Board of Trustees of the General Insurance Guaranty Fund. This is the unpaid commission which has general supervision of the affairs of savings earners' insurance established in 1907,

THE RIGHT KIND OF REFRIGERATOR

There are few household articles of more real importance than the refrigerator. The question of the right kind of a refrigerator is of more importance than most people imagine. The inner cases of "Hall's Standard Refrigerators" are covered with a patent three-ply odorless charcoal sheeting, paper-felt made expressly for them, and which, it is claimed, causes a saving of at least 25 per cent, in the consumption of ice. There are other features about the construction of this firm's refrigerators, that are well worth considering:—An improperly made article spoils the food and may bring serious illness to an entire family. The right kind of refrigerator should be sanitary and cleanable; free circulation of cold dry air; making wholesome and sweet. The right kind is Hall's Standard Refrigerator. A. D.
Hall & Son, Manufacturers, 33 to 41 refrigerator is always clean, wholesome and sweet.

Reports of the committees were read and action was taken on the following articles: Whether Geo. W. Taylor was a fit and proper person to become Moderator and Town Crier, nomination by George Jenkins.

Reports were read by A. A. Savage, the Street Commissioner, W. H. Lowry, Police Commissioner, E. F. Phillips, Forestry Commissioner.

Calder, Dr. Noyes and Dr. Howard, but W. S. Trowbridge, L. A. Beecher, J. W. Duff, Calvert Cray, Roy Hammond and J. F. Brant did not favor such an undertaking.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor of Newton Graphic, Newton, Mass.

Dear Sir:—Unfortunately the great majority of Newton citizens have had but little intercourse with the Superintendent of Streets, but every man who has served in the City Government during the past twenty years has realized the importance of his position as the dispenser of nearly one-third of the City money; and of his faithfulness in the discharge of his duties; and his ability as a road builder and road mender.

He was a recognized authority on road matters throughout the State and his retirement will prove to be a great loss to the City, and we fear also to the present administration at the City Hall.

Mr. Stuart is probably the best man to succeed him, but how much better it would have been to have retained the services of both men.

Yours truly,

Connecticut and Rhode Island each has strong claims, and other jurisdictions appeal in special cases.

The question is, therefore, What can we do about it?

Fortunately every one interested in the welfare of the State and city wants to see something done—and done quickly.

A Constitutional Amendment is apparently a condition precedent to any real reform—but such a change requires something more than two years time. The machinery can be set in motion this year however, and it seems probable that the legislative wheels will soon begin to turn.

What are some of the existing alternatives?

Many favor the so-called broad amendment—which contemplates striking out the word "proportional"; leaving to the Legislature the task of working out the final conclusion. This plan proceeds on the theory that any new law must be better than our present discredited game of hide and seek. The three mill tax is once more a possibility, its real and proper purpose being to relieve intangibles from their present undue burden—its ostensible object, as explained to the voting public, being to cure tax dodging by prescribing molasses in place of the long accustomed vinegar. A registration tax like that of New York on bonds and other choses in action is a remote possibility. Some law classifying property and having each class of subjects taxed equally and proportionally is being considered. This is a step in the right direction, but it is difficult to frame such a law because of conflicting property interests, and an extreme solicitude for venerated home shares now moving majestically in a somewhat lofty attitude.

A State Income Tax, modeled on the recent Wisconsin law is strongly advocated. It has brought to light much of the hidden revenue and produced considerable revenue and is getting its handful of feathers with a very moderate amount of squawking. It is a graduated tax, however, and calls for the paraphernalia and abracadabra of all income taxes—a fearsome thought to one who has been striving to assist other unfortunates in making out Federal income tax returns.

And finally a local option tax law is proposed and may well receive very serious consideration.

Such a law means Home Rule in taxation, permitting each city and town to raise its tax money as it sees fit. It logically results in the imitation and adoption of the best and most successful method of raising revenue and proceeds by gradual and progressive experimentation on a small scale as in the Canadian Provinces. Personally I am satisfied that most of the revenue would be raised from site values under this plan. This would be, I believe, an equitable and beneficial outcome, and far reaching in its economic effect.

It would be a system which now taxes savings and industry in order to benefit the holder of unimproved land.

And here let me cite briefly the communities which have advanced towards the goal of land values taxation.

New Zealand and Australia were the forerunners. Their favorable experience is well known and has long been cited.

Of the European countries Germany and England have put into operation laws taxing the increment of land. This is a logical step in the direction of Land Value taxation.

The Northwest Provinces of Canada furnish the great modern example of this method of taxation in actual practice.

To quote again from the Minnesota Tax Commission's Report:—

"The most striking feature in a study of tax reform in Western Canada is the strong trend throughout the entire country in the direction of the Single Tax principle. That so far it is working satisfactorily, where it is generally admitted, even by opponents of the principle. In no district in which the principle has been applied is there any noticeable desire to return to the old system. From present indications it is safe to predict that within the next ten or twenty years the Single Tax principle will be adopted by every taxing district in Western Canada."

Please note also the following from the 1912 Report of the Hon. George Langley, Minister of Municipal Affairs of Saskatchewan.

"That scheme of taxation whereby buildings and improvements are not assessed is ever increasing in popularity throughout the entire province. Our rural communities and local improvement districts the land alone has always borne the rates of taxation, and there is not the slightest tendency to change the system."

The experience of Vancouver and Edmonton are exceedingly interesting and instructive as exemplifying the successful application of the land values tax to cities.

To quote a recent observer regarding Edmonton:—

"A tax on land values alone is the only tax levied in that city. The city has had a marvelous growth in the past few years, but whether or not such growth has been due in part to its tax system is a question of some importance. It is giving general satisfaction is evidenced by the fact that nearly every resident of the city is an ardent single taxer."

And again, "Vancouver, the metropolis of British Columbia, was the first city in Canada to exempt buildings and improvements on land from taxation. The first step towards exemption was taken in 1895 when the assessment on improvements was reduced to 50 per cent. of full value. This was followed in 1906 by an additional decrease of 25 per cent., and in 1910 entire exemption was brought about. The result, it is claimed was magical. There was an immediate leap forward in local prosperity, huge buildings at once began to rise up where shacks had stood, and the city grew in population by leaps and bounds. Ten years ago it had a population of less than 27,000; today it exceeds 150,000. In 1901 the assessed value of land was less than $23,000,000; today it exceeds 100,000,000. That the marvelous growth of the city is entirely due to its taxing system is not claimed, but that it has stimulated and aided such growth is generally admitted."

Not even large land owners in Vancouver have any desire to reinstate the tax on improvements as the exemption is generally accepted as a vital cause of growth of the city in population as well as in buildings.

In the United States, Pennsylvania has supplemented the 4 mill tax with a law intended to reduce gradually the assessment rate on improvements to 50%. New York has in process a similar measure to reduce the assessment on Real Estate improvements 10% a year for 5 years where it will finally rest at 50%—while land sites are taxed at 100%. Pueblo, Colorado is just trying the experiment of a land tax—and Houston, Texas, has shown such speed under a modern system that her methods are being imitated by a whole flock of neighbor communities. Houston does not hesitate to advertise thus:—

"A perpetual bonus to manufacturers and merchants is offered by the City of Houston, Texas, through its system of exemptions from taxation. Personal property, such as cash, household furniture, and evidences of debt, are totally exempt from taxation."

The Houston plan of taxation contemplates that Merchandise, Machinery of manufacturers and all other improvements upon land shall be assessed at only twenty-five per cent of their value. Land being assessed at its fair value.

Take your money and brains to Houston, Texas, and get the full benefit of all that you create by your industry and enterprise.

For further information, address J. J. Pastoriza, Finance and Tax Commissioner, Houston, Texas.

The constitution of Texas interposes the identical obstacle that confronts us here—but the citizens of her active and vigorous cities have unanimously suspended the operation of the deadening clause and have gone ahead by common consent under a rule of common sense for the common weal.

I hope it will be clear to you that our present system is a tremendous handicap to social progress; which would be a joke if it were not a tragedy; and I believe that a change is not only inevitable but hopefully near at hand.

I trust also that I have impressed upon you the thought that any change to be permanent and beneficial must look toward the raising of a greater proportion of the public revenue from the socially created fund termed Ground Rent, thereby diminishing the present undue burden on savings and industry.

One word more.

Prof. Lewis J. Johnson of Harvard, one of the ablest experts of modern tax principles, said humorously when I asked him which amendment I should do well to urge—

"Urge them all. Every direction is south for we are now at the North Pole."

This community of Boston is metaphorically speaking at the North Pole. And it is not surprising that there are three pre-eminently pressing tasks to be accomplished. And when these three tasks are accomplished Boston takes her place once more—not as a suburb of a Greater Metropolis—but as an independent, individual and vigorous community—equipped with power and purpose. These tasks are first, the full and logical development of the splendid harbor and water-front which nature has bountifully provided. This work is in good hands and is making hopeful headway. The second task is the disentanglement and rehabilitation of the local transportation lines which connect our harbor city with other trading points, great and small. This work is receiving the attention of some of the best—as well as some of the worst—minds in this community, and will, I am confident, gradually but surely achieve its object. The third task is no less important than the other two—the reform—and I mean no sham reform—of our indefensible and industry-killing tax system.

This work is receiving the attention of some of the best—as well as some of the worst—minds in this community, and will, I am confident, gradually but surely achieve its object. The third task is no less important than the other two—the reform—and I mean no sham reform—of our indefensible and industry-killing tax system.

CHANNING ALLIANCE

A large number of members and guests of Channing Alliance met at the church parlors for the annual meeting on Tuesday. A delicious luncheon was served by a committee of ladies with Mrs. C. B. Beason as chairman. Following this came the annual reports of officers and committees, all of which were full of interest and showed a large amount of work accomplished during the year.
Mrs. Harry Lutz expressed in graceful terms appreciation of the untiring efforts of Mrs. Isabella W. Hardon, the retiring president, and Helen Moore presented her with a bunch of roses.
The officers elected for next year are as follows: President, Mrs. Alvin R.
Bailey; vice-presidents, Mrs. John T.
Alden, Mrs. George M. Nash, Mrs. Hiram Simpson; recording secretary, Mrs. Harry Lutz; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. F. Hammett; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. McIntyre; auditor, Mrs. E. W. Howe; director for three years, Mrs. C. E. Rees. At the close of the business meeting Mrs. William I. Lawrence gave a most interesting paper upon "Our Japan Mission." Mrs.
Lawrence spoke from her experiences of three years in Japan when her husband was connected with the Mission.
She told of the great awakening in 1858 and the wonderful changes that have taken place in that country since that time, dwelling at length upon the change in the position of women, and the status of education, so much of which has been due to the influence of the Christian missionaries.

DEATH OF MRS. FARLEY

Mrs. Permelia Hammond Farley, a resident of this city for over thirty years, died last Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Whitmore, on Sterling street, West Newton.
While Mrs. Farley has been a semi-invalid for ten years, her last illness was about two weeks. Mrs. Farley was born in New Ipswich, N. H., and was 84 years of age. She married Mr.
Noah W. Farley, and lived in Boston for about thirty years before making her home in Auburndale. While in Boston, Mr. Farley was treasurer of the Park Street Church, and Mrs. Farley was also active in its affairs. On removing to Auburndale, both Mr. and Mrs. Farley took a deep interest in the Congregational Church of that place, which continued until Mr. Fa-rley's death, some twenty years ago, when Mrs. Farley made her home with her daughter. She was also interested in the Newton Hospital and the Associated Charities. She is also survived by three sons, Messrs. Arthur C. Farley and William T. Farley of Auburndale, and the firm of Farley, Harvey & Co., founded by Mr. Noah W. Farley, and by Mr. Frederick W. Farley of Waltham.

Funeral services were held from the Whitmore residence on Monday afternoon, in charge of Rev. J. C.
Jaynes of the West Newton Unitarian Church and Rev. W. C. Gordon of the Congregational Church. The interment was at Forest Hills.

LADIES' NIGHT

The annual Ladies' Night of the Eight O'Clock Club was held Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. Kent on Waterston road.
Mr. Warren F. Gregory was chairman and the speakers included Mr.
Louis D. Gibbs, Mr. E. M. Hopkins, Mr.
Charles S. Ensing, Mr. George Agry, Mr. Alonzo R. Weed and Mr. Grosvenor Calhoun.
Mr. Alvin R. Bailey entertained the company with his "Annual," and other amusing stories, and a pleasing program of tenor selections, including "The Bohemians," "Sweet Is Tipperary," and "I Drink the Fragrance of the Rose," were rendered by Mr. Axel Collins, accompanied on the piano by Miss Marguerite Collins. There was a very large attendance of members and their guests and the occasion was most delightfully social.

JOHNSON-SESSIONS

On Monday, April the thirteenth, the wedding of Miss Anna Mary Sessions of Des Moines, Ia., and Mr. Robert Hunt Johnson of Newton Highlands took place in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands. The bride was given in marriage by Mr. George S. Briggs of Lynn. The Rev. Louis A. Parsons of St. Paul's, assisted by the Rev. James Clement Sharp of Waban, were the officiating clergymen.
The bride was accompanied by Miss Alice Martha Worcester of Waltham.
Miss, '11, was maid of honor. The best man was Mr. Seward Glover Johnson of Newton Highlands, a brother of the groom, while the ushers were Messrs.
Earnest Fisher and Winsor Sampson, both of Newton Highlands.
After a wedding trip to Europe, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will reside at 296 Woodward street, Waban, where they will be at home after June 13.

THE NEWTON WOMAN'S CLUB

The meeting on Friday, April 3rd, was held at the Newton Club. "A Travel Talk," by Mrs. Everett S. Jones proved one of the most delightful afternoons of the season.
It was a privilege to listen to personal experiences, through Italy, and to come in touch with matters not found inside the covers of history or guide-books. Miss Helen Partridge sang groups of songs, and with her accompanist, added much to the pleasure of the afternoon.

BOAT CLUB MEETING

The annual meeting of the Newton Boat Club was held Monday evening in the clubhouse at Riverside, and the following officers elected: W. W. Heckman, president; Fred D. Bond, vice-president; Richard C. Buntin, secretary; Charles E. Hatfield, treasurer, and Walter G. Barrows, captain.

The music lovers of Waban enjoyed a treat Monday evening at the Musicale given in Knollwood Hall by Miss Dorothy Cook of Chestnut street. Miss Cook was assisted by Miss Edith Woodman, soprano, and Miss Florence Mac Bishop, pianist. Miss Cook's beautiful mezzo-soprano voice was somewhat impaired by an attack of laryngitis, which developed late in the day of the recital, and she was obliged to omit some of her songs. She sang "Romance" by Debussy and Habanera from "Carmen" both very pleasingly and thoroughly appreciated by the audience. The duets with Miss Woodman were much enjoyed and included
"The Unfortunate" by Saint-Saens and
"Serenade" by Schubert. Miss Edith Woodman with her lyric soprano voice delighted the audience and received hearty applause for her work.
Miss Bishop was particularly well liked by the audience.

Dancing was enjoyed after the musical program, to the music of Miss Nivers' Orchestra of Brookline.
The patronesses were Mrs. Edward A. Adler, Mrs. George M. Angier, Mrs.
James B. Cook, Mrs. Albert D. Locke, Mrs. William H. Oakes, Mrs. Edmund Winchester, Mrs. James Clement Sharp, Mrs. Israel Robinson, Mrs. Gilford LeClear, Mrs. Herbert W. Hayes.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—"Under Cover" will soon enter upon the fifth month of its engagement at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston. The play has so steadily increased in popularity since its opening last December, that the thousands of playgoers who have witnessed its progress, are eagerly watching its progress. The play has already smashed the record of not to mention the fact that it has repeatedly broken the record of weekly gross receipts of the theatre made during the phenomenal run of "Disraeli." The play is produced in four acts of unusual rapidity. The auditor is kept on a high nervous tension, and is only relieved by an unexpected and pleasing finish. It makes a strong appeal to all classes of theatregoers and is the sort of a play that may be witnessed a second and third time.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Clean Up Day is being urged and planned for in many places this spring.
Why is not something being done in Newton? With the melting of the snow many unsightly things have been revealed which should receive speedy attention. The move on the part of the Forestry department of the City toward the extermination of flies and mosquitoes should receive the hearty co-operation of all citizens.
In order to make this effective a thorough cleaning up of all sorts of rubbish is a preliminary step. Why do not the women take it up? Their experience in house cleaning should endure them in good stead when it comes to municipal house cleaning.

Local Happenings

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands observed Guest Day at the Congregational Church on April 13. During the first half-hour the guests were greeted by the officers of the club, Mrs. H. E. Williams, the president, Mrs. L. H. Marshall, vice-president, and Mrs. W. C. B. Robbins, secretary, forming the receiving line. The subject of the afternoon was "American Music" and it was introduced by Mrs.
M. S. Wallace, who gave a brief sketch of the lives of the composers whose works made up the program Miss Miriam F. Bates, soprano; Miss Marguerite Harding, contralto; and Mr.
John Hermann Loud, pianist and accompanist, provided a delightful musical, which was enthusiastically received. A social hour with refreshments closed a very enjoyable afternoon.

The C. L. S. C. held a meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Miss Cora Cobb on Boylston street, Newton Highlands. Mrs. Sanford Thompson was in charge of the meeting and spoke very interestingly on "The Modern World." Mrs. Thompson was assisted by a number of the club members. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. W. E. Sanderson was hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club on Saturday, April 11, entertaining at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. M. Mick, in Newton Centre. "The Review of the Year's Work" was in charge of Mrs. A. L.
Pratt. Interesting synopses of the romances under discussion, Pericles, Cymbeline and The Tempest, were given, as well as comparisons with some earlier plays.

Shakespeare's types of mothers were well presented and a careful study of Shakespeare's "And Browning's" Cal-can was given, also of the traits and virtues of the three beautiful heroines, Marina, Imogen, and Miranda.

On Monday afternoon, April 13, the Waban Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. John H. O'Brien on Carlton road. After a short business meeting a whist club was voted to hold the annual meeting on April 27 instead of May 4th, the members of the club spent a most enjoyable "Afternoon with a Bird Enthusiast," Mrs. George E. Pfaffman of Quincy. Her account of her own interest and progress in the study of our native birds inspired everyone who listened, to study them for herself. Mrs. James H. Slade of Quincy sang several bird songs.

A meeting of the Newton Parliamentary Law Club was held in the lecture room of the Public Library on Tuesday morning. Owing to the illness of the president the business of the annual meeting was postponed until April 28th.

On Tuesday, April 14, a meeting was called to organize a woman's club in Auburndale. It was to have been held in Stirling Hall, but it was found necessary to adjourn to the Congregational Chapel, as one hundred women had gathered to show their interest in the project. Mrs. Peloubet presided as temporary chairman, and explained the purpose of the meeting; that "In response to an obvious need in our rapidly growing village for a large woman's club which will open

"THE IMMIGRANT GATEWAY"

"The Immigrant Gateway," a demonstration of the immigrants being examined at Ellis Island, was given Tuesday evening in the chapel at Central Church, by the members of the Central Guild, to a large and appreciative audience.
The introductory address was made by Rev. John J. Walker, assistant secretary of the Massachusetts Home Missionary Society. The time was the present and the scene the Examination Hall of the United States Immigration Station at Ellis Island or any other immigration station in the United States. About twenty-five of the young people took part in it. It was preceded by a very interesting program of 4 numbers including folk songs, a folk dance and readings.

The first number, "The Hungarian Czardas," was a folk dance, which was very cleverly executed by Miss Elizabeth B. Leavens, Miss Dorothy H. Puffer and Miss Bertha N. Whitney.

Folk songs were charmingly rendered by Miss Margaret H. Baker and Mrs. William Otis Hunt entertained the audience most delightfully with a reading entitled, "The Scum of the Earth."

Mrs. Ellsworth Snow contributed some finely rendered violin selections and at the close of the entertainment the audience arose and joined in singing "America."

DARTMOUTH SCHOLARSHIP

At an interesting meeting of the Dartmouth Club of Newton held last Friday night in Temple hall, Newton-annual scholarship of $100 would be given by the club to a member of the class of 1915 who intended to enter Dartmouth College. The scholarship would be awarded on the basis of good character, and possess those qualities which would indicate leadership among his fellows. Mr. Ernest M.

Hopkins, Dartmouth, '01, who was secretary to former President Tucker for some years, and later secretary of the College, gave an interesting illustrated lecture on the college and its work.

lege songs rendered in an enthusiastic manner.

At the annual meeting of the club, these officers were elected, President, Charles B. Gordon; Vice-President,
Chas. R. Cabot.

The Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association will be held on Monday evening, May 4th. Six directors will be chosen to serve for three years. The directors whose terms expire May, 1914, are C. L. Ellison, F. D. Fuller, C. D. Kepner, W. A. Somerby, W. C. Wrye and E. O. Childs. The members have the privilege through the nominating committee, of re-electing these gentlemen or selecting others to take their places. All members are urged to save this date and to be present at this meeting. The program will be announced later. Mr. L. D. Towle, at the last meeting of the Directors, was chosen to serve as Trustee to fill out the unexpired term of the late Frank A. Day. Mr. Towle for many years has been a helpful friend of the Association and we give him a cordial welcome to this new relationship.

Fellowship Club

The subject at the meeting of the Fellowship Club next Monday evening will be, "A Comparison of Christianity and Mohammedanism." Beautiful pictures will be shown at that time.

Efficiency Talk

Mr. Whitehead gave the fourth Efficiency Talk at the Newton Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening, the 13th.

His topic was "The Rules of the Game." Mr. Whitehead said in part:—"The rules of the game of business, are the principles of business efficiency. Efficiency is effectiveness, or a full return for effort or money expended. It is impossible of course, to obtain 100 per cent. efficiency, so that we have always something left for which to strive. In studying efficiency our problem is not with, let us say, the 60 per cent. efficiency we already possess, but with the 40 per cent. still to attain."

"Our aim is the reduction of waste and the increasing of results by scientific study and performance of our work."

"The object of business is to make a profit through satisfied patrons. So our efforts are directed to making as much profit on our investment, of either money or energy, consistent with the only policy today in successful business of the 'square deal'."

The speaker gave a list of business rules, amongst which were:

"The definition of duties, which emphasized the need for a clear conception of our work."

"The division of authority, which made each man shoulder the responsibilities of his own work. The quota; which gave an objective for which each man could strive."

"The bonus or commission; (or the reward) examples of the application of these and many other 'rules of the game' were given in manufacturing, and wholesale and retail merchandising."

The talk was full of practical suggestions and was voted extremely interesting by all present.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE—Gertrude Hoffman, the celebrated impersonator and legitimate star, comes to B. F. Keith's Theatre the week of April 20th in a possibly limited engagement of one week only. Miss Hoffman will present her famous Revue in its entirety, with twelve big, beautiful scenes, a company of fifty people, including a beauty chorus of fifteen and a great troupe of Arabian tumblers and acrobats. An augmented orchestra of twenty musicians will interpret the beautiful musical score composed by Max Hoffman, and twenty-seven stage hands are required to handle the massive and complex stage settings. It consumes one hour and thirty minutes time, the twelve scenes being run off at lightning speed with no waits.

The show a New York subway station during rush hour, a Japanese tea garden, Miss Hoffman's impressions of Anna Held, Harry Lauder, Basil McCoy, Gaby Delys, and Isadora Duncan in her Beautiful Blue Danube Waltzes, Zobeide's Dream, a beautiful Oriental pantomime and ballet; Mile. Cavaleer's Beauty Parlor, and many other novelties. This brilliant offering will be surrounded by a great vaudeville show including Jack Kennedy & Co. in "A Business Proposal"; Walter Van Brundt, the phonograph singer; Burley and Burley, grotesque comedy acrobats; Three Collegians; and Tom Kirby and the Lawrence Sisters, the dancing bugs.

D. A. R. MEET

The April meeting of the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., of Newton, was held on the afternoon of the 13th, at the Newton Club House, the regent, Mrs. Charles D. Meserve, presiding. After the business session, Miss Van Wageningen, accompanied by Miss Cranford, sang a group of Scotch and French songs most acceptably. Mrs. Meserve then introduced Mr. William Sumner Appleton, Secretary of the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, who spoke on "Seventeenth Century Houses in New England."

He described the different types from the simple thatched cabins of the earliest settlers, of which no examples can now be found, to the shingled and slated roofs which can be found in Salem, Ipswich, Saugus, Hamilton, Topsfield, the latter having one of the best restored, which a Chapter can visit and, by making arrangements, obtain an excellent 17th century supper in the olden style. Many of these old houses have been spoiled by the process of restoration.

He showed many photographs of old houses, described the different construction of chimneys, windows, doors, panelling, overhanging roofs, etc.

He urged the members to try and find some old house in Newton to restore and make a home for the Chapter.

Questions were asked and a delightful afternoon was passed.

Mr. Weston said that if the pony express were refused the next step would be to obtain legislation on Beacon hill to stop the delivery of liquor into no license communities.

Alderman Cox queried a statement that 11 kegs of beer had been delivered for a Polish wedding, and asked if the petitioners contemplated any action to prevent champagne being used at weddings of another class of citizens?

Mr. Fred A. Hubbard called the attention of the committee to the fact that if express licenses were refused there would be no way for the Newton druggists who must use alcohol as well as other liquors in their business, from obtaining the same in any legal manner.

The committee took the matter under advisement and will report to the full board after the public hearing assigned for April 27th.

ENGAGEMENT TEA

The engagement of Miss Margaret Tapley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren M. Tapley of Cabot street, Newtonville, and Mr. Henry B. Whitcomb of Newton, was announced Saturday afternoon at a tea given by Mrs. Liverly H. Howe at her residence on Newtonville avenue.

There were about 30 guests present including intimate friends and classmates of Miss Tapley, and the affair was most delightfully social.

The decorative scheme in the dining-room was yellow, and daffodils and roses were arranged attractively on the table. Mrs. Warren M. Tapley and Mrs. Wesley E. Rich poured, and Miss Evelyn Wadleigh and Miss Virginia Tapley assisted in serving.

Opening Events On All Newton Courses See Keen Competition. Season Schedules

Golf clubs throughout Newton were ranged Patriots' Day, when the season was opened on most of the courses.

While the rain kept a large number from finishing, those who started in fine good time had little trouble in getting around, and the scores turned out to be exceptionally good.

At Brae-Burn, John G. Anderson, inner-up in the National amateur championship last year, had the best score, with 80. G. S. Smith was the inner of the best net, having a card 94-18-76.

R. Lyons captured the gross prize at the Albemarle Club, with a 79, and the prize resulted in a tie, J. R. Beatty and J. P. Littlefield both getting 71.

The afternoon at the same club A. Anderson and H. Austen were the winners in the golf ball foursome, having a card of 86-15-71.

Woodland had a handicap medal play in two classes in the forenoon.

Class A a triple tie resulted with Tewksbury, J. W. Gahan and J. F. Greenery for the best net and in class B, W. B. Freeman and T. H. Aldwin tied for best net, with 75.

The four-ball foursome tournament, which took place in the afternoon, had W. Lawrence and V. S. Lawrence, the son and son, taking the trophy for the best net.

JOWETT—BROWN

Brilliant Newton Wedding Is Followed By Large Reception

A society event of special note was the wedding on Wednesday evening of Miss Marguerite Hermon Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jameson Brown of Newton, and Mr. Robert Sanford Jowett, son of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Jowett of Prince Street, West Newton.

Guests numbering about eleven hundred assembled in Channing Unitarian Church, Newton, which was attractively decorated in a rainbow color scheme. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Charles W. Wendte, assisted by Rev. Harry Lutz, pastor of the church.

As the bridal party assembled at the chancel, Mr. Harrison played Wagner's "Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin." The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked extremely handsome in her gown of ivory white satin with rose-point lace, and Brussels net veil, and made with a full court train. The veil was fastened with a coronet of orange blossoms and the shower bouquet was of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Nellie Lee Brown, who was gowned in pink tulle with overdress of chiffon trimmed with Chantilly lace, and carried a bouquet of pink Killarney roses.

Helene May Priest, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dana Priest, was the flower girl, in a quaint costume of white satin, copied from a model of a Van Dyke portrait. She wore a pearl cap, and carried a basket of crimson ranunculus roses twined with blue satin ribbon.

The bridesmaids were four very attractive young lady friends of the bride, and the rainbow effect was carried out in their gowns; they included Miss Gladys Stratton of Grand Rapids, Mich., who was gowned in pink tulle and chiffon, Miss Susan MacArthur of Troy, N. Y., who wore yellow tulle and chiffon, Miss Ruth Fletcher of Melrose, who was in green tulle and chiffon, and Miss Eleanor Boyd of Newton, who was attired in blue tulle and chiffon, and all carried bouquets of white roses.

The bridegroom's attendant was Mr. Herbert C. Pope, Harvard '11, as best man. The ushers were Mr. Arnold W. Pope of Ashmont, Mr. Richard W. Hall, Harvard '10, of Malden, Mr. Wayland M. Minot, Harvard '11, of Cambridge, and Mr. Howard A. Johnson, Harvard '11, of Brookline. Mr. Edwin S. Mitchell, of Medford, and Mr. Edwin K. Holmes, Harvard '10, of Brookline.

A large and brilliant reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the bride's residence on Washington street, which was attended by about 500 guests, prominent in the social life of Newton.

The Brown residence was most elaborately decorated for the occasion, and the spacious drawing-room was decorated in rose pink.

The receiving party stood under a canopy in a corner of the room, which was screened off with green lattice work and lighted with small electric bulbs in the form of pink roses.

The bride and bridegroom were assisted in receiving by their parents, Mrs. Charles Brown was exquisitely gowned in gold embroidered chiffon over white crepe-de-chine, and carried a bouquet of lavender colored orchids.

Mrs. Jowett wore a beautiful gown of white charmeuse trimmed with silver lace, and carried a bouquet of Tango sweet peas.

Handley's Orchestra was in attendance and furnished a delightful program of music during the reception.

Refreshments were served in a large 60-foot tent on the lawn, to which an entrance was made from the main hall, with steps leading down into the tent. The entrance was festooned with crimson ranunculus roses, which were also used as decoration in the hall, giving a picturesque and bowler-like effect.

In the dining-room, where punch was served, a combination color-

HIGH SCHOOL FENCING

Many Spectators See Students Defeat Tufts Individual Standing

The Athletic Carnival Friday night in the High School Drill Hall under the auspices of the Fencing Club, was one of the most successful events ever known in connection with sport at the school. While no definite statement as to proceeds is forthcoming as yet, it is understood that the exhibition was as much a success financially as any other way.

There were nearly 450 spectators seated when the meet opened and the events started off with three bouts of fencing. Clark of Newton being first. His work was exceedingly neat and graceful, and he defeated his man (Bease of Tufts) 11-9. Hayden of Newton then met Holmgren of Tufts and beat 14-12. Hayden's work was praiseworthy and was much appreciated by the crowd, who applauded loudly at some of his clever parries. Herman, the captain of the Newton team, then took the floor and, displaying the surprising brilliancy, which has characterized his work from the first, overwhelmingly defeated Millman of Tufts 12-2. Following came a 10-minute wrestling match between Adams '15, and Caverly '16, which was declared a draw. This provided much amusement for the spectators.

The fencers then returned to action and Hayden, (N) showed great stuff, when he defeated Bease of Tufts 9-8. Hayden played to hard luck, for both of his matches were overtime bouts and the boy deserves great credit for his hard work. Herman (N) showed his lack of experience with the foil, by allowing Holmgren (T) to outwit him in spite of his ability, and the bout ended 5-1 in favor of the Tufts man. Clark (N) then came in strong and in one of the prettiest bouts of the evening beat Millman (T) 6-4.

Daly and Mooney then boxed, and the house enjoyed thoroughly the work in the ring.

At this point, after winning 5 of the

MAY BREAKFAST IN SIX WARDS

Second Feast For Hospital Social Service Fund Gives Promise of Success

Indications already point to the success of the second Newton May Breakfast that will be served in six wards Saturday, May 9, from 7 to 9 o'clock, in aid of the social service fund of the Newton Hospital Aid Association.

The initial breakfast last year netted $2574.42 in aid of the same fund. Proceeds of a performance of "The Little Minister" brought the total for the social service fund up to $2776.87.

This year the breakfast is to be served in the following churches:

Elliot Church, Centre and Church streets, Newton.

Church of the New Jerusalem, Highland avenue, Newtonville.

First Unitarian Church, Washington street, West Newton.

Evangelical Congregational Church, Hancock street and Woodland road, Auburndale.

Congregational Church, Lincoln street, Newton Highlands.

Methodist Episcopal Church, Centre street and Langley road, Newton Centre.

Tickets at 25 cents each may be purchased at any of the following Drug Stores, and they will also be sold from house to house.

F. A. Hubbard, Newton.

John F. Payne, and W. M. and P. S. Quinlan, Newtonville.

Ingram and Paine, West Newton.

Elliot W. Keyes, Auburndale.

J. T. Waterhouse, and J. H. Green, Newton Highlands.

William Hahn, Newton Centre.

In Waban, Newton Upper Falls, Newton Lower Falls and Chestnut Hill it has not been thought advisable to attempt to raise money by following the plan of the other wards in giving a breakfast. These sections of the city will, however, join in furthering the cause by expending their energy in other directions.

Chestnut Hill has already circulated a private subscription list under the management of Mrs. Endicott P. Saltonstall, Mrs. Allison Burr, Mrs. Francis G. Curtis, Mrs. Albert F. Bemis, Mrs. William L. Allen, and Mrs. Henry W. Bliss. The sum of $156 has already been secured.

A dance under the management of Miss Rachel Gilmore and Miss Margaret Brock at Waban, Saturday evening, netted $75 for the fund.

The amount raised by last year's May Breakfast was secured as follows:

EDITORIAL

Newton citizens should take a large share in selecting the next Republican candidate for the state senate from this district, and should make an early start towards nominating a resident of this end of the district. Senator Hilton of Framingham has had the usual two years of service and has recently been chosen town counsel, so that Newton can properly advance the nomination of one of its own residents if it is deemed advisable.

Three years ago I strongly advocated the selection of another candidate from the country end of this district, on the ground that Newton should be represented in the Senate when a new apportionment of senatorial districts was made. Such action will take place next year, and it is most important that some change be made in our present district lines. During the thirty years the present arrangement has existed, conditions have rapidly changed. The Metropolitan districts and the Charles River Basin projects have been created and the country towns in the present district do not have the same interests as Newton, Watertown and Weston. I believe that Newton should urge the creation of a senatorial district composed of Newton, Waltham, Watertown, Weston and possibly one or two small towns to make up the requisite population, but all having an interest in the Metropolitan district and the problems which it creates. The next two months will witness the necessary public sentiment to nominate the Republican candidate for the senate and every citizen of Newton should appreciate the situation, and do his part for the best interests of the city.

Councillor Alexander McGregor advocates the annexation to Boston, of communities in the Metropolitan district, on the grounds of efficiency, economy and accomplishment. Possibly the Councillor would have some ground for this argument if he could show that Boston was economically or efficiently managed and that the annexation of other communities would increase that efficiency and economy. Until he can produce such reasons, Newton prefers its own government. Thank you.

The present agitation to refuse permits to transportation of liquor into Newton may lead to annexation to Boston, if such permits are not granted.

OBSERVE LADIES' NIGHT

Varied Program at Unitarian Club's Annual Event

On Thursday evening the Unitarian Club observed Ladies' Night in Channing Church parlors. After an informal reception and a short business meeting, Miss Bessie Talbot Salmon, accompanied by Mr. J. Angus Winter, rendered a charming group of songs. Mr. William Lyman Underwood of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the speaker of the evening, under the title of "The Adventures of a Sage Brush Tourist in Wyoming," then conducted his audience on a most delightful trip through Yellowstone Park.

Mr. Underwood said that the tourists who make the regular circuit trip through the Park are familiarly called "Dudes," while those who take their own equipment and go off the beaten track are spoken of as "Sage Brush Tourists," hence his subject. The lecture was illustrated with stereoscopic views, many of them being made from his own snapshots and all of them colored by himself. In closing he said, "Nowhere else does Mother Nature display so much of her marvellous handiwork for the benefit and enjoyment of the people."

Two other groups of songs by Miss Salmon closed an unusually enjoyable program. A social hour followed during which refreshments were served.

These officers were elected for the coming year: President, Henry E. Bothfield; first vice president, George M. Nash; second vice president, Henry F. Stimpson; secretary, James Kingman; treasurer, Horace C. Harrington; executive committee, James P. Tolman, Francis Newhall, Robert D. Holt, A. Willis Small, Herbert Stebbins; membership committee, F. W. Johnson, Charles Matlack, Robert E. Clark, C. H. Barney, E. W. Hodgson, music committee, Walter A. Beedle, Thomas F. Murray.

THE NEWTON DELEGATION
(Boston Record)

The Newton delegation in the House may be changed completely during the ensuing year. All three of the members—Henry E. Bothfield, George H. Ellis, and Thomas W. White—have been in the House five years consecutively, and at least two of the three are likely to decline a renomination.

Rep. Bothfield says frankly that he will not be a candidate for another year. There is considerable doubt about Rep. Ellis' coming back. Rep. White is doing excellent work at the head of the Ways and Means Committee, and may be prevailed on to stand again, but his present inclinations are not strong in that direction.

SAVE ON SURFACING
New Contracts for Street Materials Are Awarded

The contracts for furnishing street surfacing materials for this year were awarded yesterday by Acting Street Commissioner George E. Stuart, and approved by Mayor Childs, at a savings of last year's cost, of $35,000.

For asphaltic and non-asphaltic materials the Standard Oil Company of New York was the lowest bidder, its figure being a little less than $7500 for 120,000 gallons. This is also the lowest price ever paid by the city for this class of materials.

The tar preparations contracts were awarded to the American Tar Company and the Barrett Manufacturing Company of Boston. Both concerns will furnish the city with 210,000 gallons at a cost of $15,300.

The total amount of road surfacing materials consists of 470,000 gallons, and the aggregate cost will be about $32,340. Last year the city purchased 482,000 gallons at a cost of $35,000.

ANOTHER LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Not for a long time has a lecture in Newton been so largely attended as the one on Christian Science given in Players' Hall, West Newton, last November. Appreciating the increasing public interest in this subject, the Christian Science Church of Newton has arranged for another lecture on it for Monday evening, May 4th, at the same place, by Mr. Bliss Knapp, C. S. B., a well-known member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church.

These lectures are not primarily for Christian Scientists, but rather make their appeal to those with an open mind who are becoming interested in Science, or are investigating its claims. To all such, an authoritative and informing statement as to the correct teachings of Christian Science will naturally be welcome.

Alderman's Son Hurt in Brush with Pole when Insect Gets Aboard

A small bug, which had alighted on the clothing of Lawrence Rice, a Newton High School Junior, while he was driving his father's automobile along Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill, Saturday afternoon, was the cause given by the young man when the touring car came into collision with an electric light pole.

Young Rice, who is the son of Alderman Abbott B. WOMEN'S CLUBS

Miss Grace M. Burt, Editor.

The Publicity committee of the Domestic Science and Pure Food Exposition, which the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs in co-operation with the Boston Retail Grocers' Association, will hold from October 5 to 31 in Mechanics' Building, has sent out its first communication to the clubs, together with stamps to be affixed to mail.

The circular is as follows:
"It will be the first of the kind in Boston. The Westfield standard for Pure Foods will be enforced. The exhibits in all branches of Domestic Science will be the best obtainable.
Well-known specialists in Domestic Science will lecture daily. The balcony will be of special interest to club women, for here will be found the exhibits illustrating the work of the Departments of the Mass. State Federation."

"It is planned to have a Pure Food Restaurant. There will be daily music by a band, and moving pictures, properly censored, besides many special features."

"The Tea Room will be attractive and your Club is asked to speak for a "Tea Room" day, which will be named for your Club. Your members may learn of the activities of the State Federation, as well as how to make the most of your visits to the Exposition, at the Bureau of Information."

"Excursion rates from various New England points will probably be secured. The Exposition is sure to appeal to Club-women, and indeed to progressive women all over New England, who wish to learn about pure food and the latest appliances that make housekeeping a science."

On Wednesday morning the Social Science Club listened to an account of a trip to the copper mining districts of northern Michigan, presented by Mrs.
James H. Wright of Cambridge, a daughter of one of the club members.

Mrs. Henry C. Hardon, Mrs. Wright dwelt upon the beauty and wonder of the lake trip and deplored the ruthless slaughter of the forests which was evident on every hand in that northern country. Mackinaw was characterized as being both very old and very new.

She was particularly impressed with the air of prosperity, which was everywhere evident in the cities of Houghton and Calumet. The process of mining copper was described and specimens of the conglom-erate rock from which the ore is extracted were exhibited, also several types of miners' lamps, as well as many post cards and sketches, which Mrs. Wright had made, of the picturesque shaft houses. Mrs. Wright went into detail relative to the recent strike, saying that there had not been a strike there before for fifty years. She quoted quite freely from the report of the committee, who investigated conditions, and showing how much better things were there than in other mining districts. It was chiefly a movement on the part of the Western Federation of Miners to gain recognition, and was forced upon the men at Calumet who had no grievance themselves. She closed with extracts from a letter by Bishop Williams of Michigan, in which he pointed out how groundless the strike was. There were numerous questions and several of the members who had visited the region added their appreciation of all that had been said.

At the meeting of the Pierian Club on Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Temperley, Mrs. Mills gave the usual paper on current events and Mrs. Hemphill presented a "Vision of the Future of South America." A social hour closed a pleasant afternoon.

The thirtieth anniversary of the Newtonville Woman's Guild was observed at the annual meeting on Tuesday.

At one o'clock a delicious luncheon was served by the Social committee.
Mrs. J. G. Anderson, chairman. This was enjoyed by 170 of the members.

Twenty of the Charter members were seated together, in the front of the room, the table being presided over by the president, Mrs. Irving O.
Palmer, who also acted as toastmist-ress with her usual sparkle and charm. After the luncheon several toasts were given. The first toast opposed was "Our Charter Members".
The response to this being given by Mrs. H. W. Thayer.

Next came the roll call of the Charter members present, and nearly all of these responded, in a one-minute speech, to the toast "What the Newtonville Woman's Guild has been to me". Mrs. D. E. Baker then followed with a response to the toast, "What the Newtonville Woman's Guild has been to the Community". Even the oldest members were surprised to hear Mrs. Baker's summation up of what has actually been accomplished. This re-

WHIST AND DANCE

Parishioners of Church of Sacred Heart in Annual Reunion

Bray Hall at Newton Centre was thronged last evening at the annual reunion, whist party and dance of the Church of the Sacred Heart. The pastor, Rev. Daniel C. Riordan and his assistant, Rev. James F. Haney, made the affair a pronounced success.

Whist was played in an adjoining hall from 8 until 10, more than 60 tables being in play, after which an exhibition of jig-dancing and musical entertainment was given. In the main hall several hundred participated in dancing. In each corner of the hall, which was profusely decorated, candy and refreshments were served by young ladies at booths.

The general committee was headed by James Waters, who was also in charge of the dancing. John J. Hickey was assistant floor marshal, and John M. Fitzgerald was floor director. The chairman of the various committees were: Miss Alice Leary, candy; John O'Kane, door; John Furdon, check room; Miss Nora Mahony, refreshments.

A high-class program of 10 numbers was presented by the Harvard Musical Clubs, at the concert Monday evening, at Mount Ida School, and the audience was enthusiastic in showing its appreciation of each number.

The program opened with a beautiful selection, "Gypsy Prince," by the Mandolin Club, followed by the song, "At Sea," by the Glee Club, and a Medley by the Banjo Club.

Mr. J. R. O. Perkins, '14, contributed in no small measure to the entertainment, with his "Monologue, Baseball," and "You Can't Play Every Instrument in the Band."
